Lunatic Asylum Registry,

14, JOHN STREET, ADELPHI, LONDON.

Established A.D. 1828.

Messrs. LANE and LARA have also much pleasure in inviting the attention of the Profession to their LUNATIC ASYLUM REGISTRY, by which the friends of the Insane and of Invalids may obtain gratuitously the Terms and Prospectuses of establishments adapted to every class of the community, and the fullest information on every point connected with them.

Lists are kept of Superintendents, Medical Officers, Matrons, and male and female Attendants.

Office Hours from 12 to 4.

OPINIONS OF THE MEDICAL PRESS.

“The whole plan appears to us a good one, and we trust it will be attended with complete success.”—Lancet.

“A bureau of this description has been much wanting in the Metropolis.”—Medical Times.

MEDICAL TRANSFER & PARTNERSHIP,

30, BUCKLERSBURY, CHEAPSIDE.

MR. ORRIDGE,

MEDICAL TRANSFER AGENT AND REFEREE,

IN offering his services to the Profession, takes leave to point out that the instrumentality of his extensive connexion enables him to afford particular advantages in the furtherance of their respective objects, both to Gentlemen who are disposed to RELINQUISH, either wholly or in part, and to those also who contemplate COMMENCING Practice.

MR. ORRIDGE has the honour of being permitted to refer to the testimony of Gentlemen of the first respectability between whom he has been concerned in matters of Transfer and Partnership—a fact that he presumes will be esteemed a satisfactory proof of the sincerity of his endeavours to conduct these transactions in an honourable and straightforward manner.

He is fully aware of the evil of an indiscriminate publicity in negotiations regarding medical practice, and every care is taken that particulars intrusted to him are submitted only to suitable applicants—the private nature of the information given being strictly enjoined.

Gentlemen about to commence, who will favour MR. ORRIDGE confidentially with the nature and extent of their wishes regarding purchase, can be apprised of appropriate opportunities as they occur.

On occasions where ADVICE is required in forming a correct conclusion as to the worth or eligibility of a practice, MR. ORRIDGE trusts that his familiarity with the various contingencies that govern value, will be found of considerable service to those by whom he is employed.

Office Hours from 11 to 4.

Gentlemen desirous of consulting Mr. Orridge at their own residences are requested to make their appointments after the latter hour.

PREFATORY ADDRESS.

ON concluding a task of no ordinary difficulty, slight is our inclination for writing a "preface." A sense of justice, however, peremptorily demands an expression of gratitude. A feeling of anxiety appeals for relief to an admission of regret. Gratitude is due for sympathy, encouragement, and powerful support. Regret is felt because of an apparently culpable violation of a self-imposed engagement. When we announced the publication of this work for the 1st of January, many thousands of the "statistical returns" had been received. It was expected that the remainder would arrive with almost equal regularity and rapidity. In this expectation we were grievously disappointed, some of the "returns" actually not having been delivered at our office before the 16th of January. The fault, therefore, if fault there be, rests not mainly with us. It is possible that the amount of labour and length of time required for the efficient accomplishment of our task, were somewhat under-estimated. It is a new work, a first effort, and the labour has been immense. If we miscalculated in any degree the severity and tediousness of the task, a steady devotion to the attainment of the object contemplated enabled us to proceed throughout, with unabated energy, and an unshaken resolution. Strenuous have been our endeavours to deserve success. Whether we have succeeded or not in this first attempt the profession will speedily determine. The labour of preparing and the risk of publishing this DIRECTORY, were not encountered rashly, and without mature deliberation. The inducement was found in an urgent necessity. Delay threatened injury to the interests of the profession. Dignified practitioners were degraded and quackish impostors were exalted before the public. Not any time was to be lost, and we resolved to present the profession with a Medical Guide free from the defilement of quackery. Works of this description are widely distributed amongst the aristocratic and intelligent classes of society, and cannot therefore be regarded as unimportant publications. Professional Directories are works of unquestionable utility. They are found in all Libraries, Reading Rooms, and other places that are accessible to Reviews, Magazines, Scientific Periodicals, and Newspapers. They are hand-books of daily and almost hourly reference. When, then, it is remembered, that Law Lists, Guides, Clergy Lists, Calendars, Medical and other Directories, are constantly found on

THE LIBRARY TABLES OF THE HOUSES OF PARLIAMENT, IN ALL PUBLIC LIBRARIES,
 ON THE TABLES OF ALL PUBLIC READING-ROOMS,
 IN THE LIBRARIES OF THE UNIVERSITIES AND COLLEGES,
 ON THE LIBRARY TABLES OF OUR GREAT ARISTOCRATIC CLUBS,
 IN THE LIBRARIES AND ON THE TABLES OF THE READING-ROOMS
 ATTACHED TO LITERARY AND SCIENTIFIC INSTITUTIONS, ON THE TABLES OF THE RECEPTION ROOMS OF MANY THOUSANDS OF MEDICAL PRACTITIONERS, AND AT ALL THE PRINCIPAL HOTELS, TAVERNS, AND INNS THROUGHOUT THE KINGDOM,

the tendencies of such works for good, or for evil, cannot be lightly regarded. Professional Guides are not ephemeral productions. They are not published and forgotten in a day. On the contrary, when properly conducted, they gather strength with age, and acquire, as years advance, a steady growth of power, and exhibit additional stores of useful information. But when improperly conducted, the fate of a Medical Directory cannot long remain doubtful. If such a work be polluted by the claims, titles, and pretensions of quacks, the feelings of the profession revolt from the contamination. The indiscriminate association of dignified and quackish titles in a Medical Directory, has a strong tendency to destroy the barrier that should ever separate the great body of the profession from the different sections of unprincipled adventurers and false pretenders. When distinctions won by great mental labour and research are blended and united with titles claimed by fraud, opposition to such a mischievous and injurious proceeding becomes a duty—toleration, a grave offence—sanction, a positive crime. It must not be said of legitimate medicine that her enemies are “within the gates.”

Not only have quacks been fostered in Directories, but monopoly prices have been demanded from the members of that very profession whose feelings were scandalously and audaciously outraged. Wise heads and correct professional motives would have pointed to a totally opposite course of policy. The offenders are now plunged into an inextricable gulf of error. Monopoly of publication—monopoly of price, not relinquished without much gnashing of teeth—the monopoly of power to insult—the monopoly of annually presenting to the world the fraudulent distinctions claimed by quacks—all were thought to be secure. But the first shot from the literary battery of an orthodox Medical Directory annihilated the hopes and expectations of mercenary speculators. At “one fell swoop” monopoly of publication—monopoly of price—monopoly of power to injure in a Medical Directory—a monopoly of the privilege of exalting quacks—vanished never more to return. But, it may be inquired, by what means a reimposition of an exorbitant monopoly price is to be prevented?—by what means the parading of the names of quacks accompanied by fulsome titles and distinctions is to be obviated in future? The continued publication annually of THE BRITISH MEDICAL DIRECTORY on the principles and plan of the volume now in the hands of the reader, and at less than a moiety of the monopoly price, will enable the profession to supply a practical, as well as a most effectual, answer to these questions. Two Medical Directories are now in the field. Although the variety is not extensive, yet it is sufficiently comprehensive to admit of a selection. The first annual edition of a work of this description never pleads unsuccessfully for an indulgent judgment; subsequent editions are issued under greatly diminished difficulties, and cannot establish any such claim to leniency. The second annual edition of THE BRITISH MEDICAL DIRECTORY, to be published on the 1st of January, 1854, will challenge the utmost severity of criticism.

MEMORANDA FOR THE YEAR.

MARCH.—Overseers are to be appointed on 25th, or within fourteen days thereafter. Those whose year has expired must verify their accounts by oath before one justice, within fourteen days, to be delivered to their successors, after the appointment of such successors. Constables, head-boroughs, and tithingmen, are to deliver their accounts every three months, and within fourteen days after they leave office, to the overseers, who are within the following fourteen days, to lay them before the inhabitants, and, if approved by a majority, they shall be allowed; but if not, the constables, &c., may appeal to a justice. Thursday after 25th (April 1) Poor Law guardians to be elected.

APRIL 5th.—The returns for making the assessment of direct taxes are delivered soon after this day. The person making the return rates himself for the persons and articles subject to taxes kept and used by him between the 5th April, 1851, and the 5th April, 1852. If he wishes to give up keeping any servant or other matter assessed, he should do so on the 4th April, or he will be liable to another year's tax.

8th.—Fire insurance due at Lady Day must be paid on or before this day, or the policy becomes void.

JUNE 20th.—Overseers to fix on church doors for two Sundays notices to persons qualified to vote for counties to make claims.—N.B. Persons on the register need not make a new claim unless they have changed their qualifications or place of abode.

JULY 8th.—Fire insurance due at Midsummer must be paid on or before this day, or the policy becomes void.

20th.—Assessed taxes and poor-rates due on Jan. 5, must be paid on or before this day by all electors of cities or boroughs, or they will be disqualified from voting at an election. Last day for sending in claims for voting in counties.

31st.—Overseers to make out lists of county and borough electors.

AUGUST 7th to 15th.—(First two Sundays), Borough and county lists to be affixed to church doors.

25th.—Last day for leaving with overseers objections to county electors. Last day for service of objections on electors in counties or their tenants, and for service on overseers of objections to borough electors; also the last day to claim as borough electors.

29th.—Overseers of parishes and townships to send lists of electors and lists of objections to the clerk of the peace for the county, or to the town clerk in cities or boroughs.

31st.—All taxes and rates payable on March 1st must be paid on or before this day by persons claiming to be enrolled as Burgesses under the new Municipal Corporations Act.

SEPTEMBER 5th.—Overseers of parishes and boroughs to make out 'Burgess Lists' under Municipal Reform Act, to be delivered to town-clerk this day.

4th to 11th.—(Two Sundays preceding the 15th) Lists of objections to county electors, and also claims and objections respecting borough lists, to be affixed to church doors.

8th.—Town-clerk in boroughs to cause the Burgess Lists to be fixed in some public place in the borough from this day till 15th.

15th.—Claims of persons omitted in the Burgess Lists, and objections to persons improperly inserted therein, to be given to the town-clerk in writing on or before this day; notice of the objection to be also given to the person objected to.

British Association for the Advancement of Science meets at Hull this month.

OCTOBER 1st.—Mayor and assessors to hold an open court to revise the Burgess Lists under the Municipal Reform Act, some time between the 1st and 15th Oct.; three clear days' notice of such court being given. The revised list to be kept by the town-clerk, and persons therein entered to be entitled to vote, according to the act, from the 1st of November.

9th.—Annual licence to be taken out by Bankers, or others issuing promissory notes for money payable on demand, and allowed to be re-issued.

13th.—Fire Insurance due at Michaelmas must be paid by this day, or the policy becomes void.

NOVEMBER 9th.—Mayor and Aldermen of Boroughs to be elected.

15th.—Certificates to be taken out yearly by any person admitted as an attorney or solicitor, or as a proctor or writer to the signet, or admitted and enrolled as a notary public, and by every sworn clerk, clerks in court, &c.; by any member of an inn of court in England, acting as conveyancer, special pleader, draftsman in equity, not being at the bar.

DECEMBER 31st. Last day of the year.—Those who have not been accustomed to keep an account of personal or household expenses should begin from this day. Those in trade who have not been accustomed to take an annual account of stock should begin from this day.

REGISTRATION.—Births—Children may be registered within forty-two days after birth, by giving notice to the registrar of their district, without any fee whatever.

DEATHS.—Intimation should be given of deaths in the same manner as of births, early, as the undertaker must have a certificate to give to the minister who reads the funeral service, without which the latter may refuse to bury the body.

TENANCY.—A yearly tenant must take care that he gives notice to quit his premises half a year before the time of the expiration of the current year of his tenancy. If, by agreement, a quarter's notice is to be sufficient, such notice must also expire with the tenancy, if that is yearly.

WILLS.—All property may be disposed of by will; all wills must be in writing, and each must be signed at the bottom or end by the testator, or, if he is unable, by some person on his behalf, by his direction, and in his presence; and two, or more, attesting witnesses (who must be present at the same time) must also sign the will. If the testator wishes to acknowledge or reward the attesting witnesses, he must do it in some other way than by bequeathing them anything; for legacies to attesting witnesses, or to the wife or husband of an attesting witness, are void. No person under twenty-one can make a valid will. Wills are revoked by subsequent marriage, unless re-executed by new delivery, with two attesting witnesses, or by the addition of a codicil; otherwise, a will can only be revoked by destruction, or by the making of a new one; and alterations in wills must be made in the same manner as a will is made. Properties bequeathed in general terms, include all property in the possession of the testator, at his decease, whether acquired before or after the will was made.

[If persons make their own wills, without legal assistance, let them express themselves in a plain simple way, avoiding roundabout phrases, or attempts to imitate legal phraseology.]

The schools are divided into four: the first, Classical; the second, Mathematical; the third, Natural Science; the fourth, Law and Modern History.

In Medicine, all students (besides undergoing the two examinations appointed for Bachelors of Arts) are to be examined in the Theory and Practice of Medicine, Anatomy, Physiology, and Pathology; in Materia Medica, and in Chemistry and Botany, so far as they illustrate the science of Medicine; and in two at least of the following ancient medical writers—Hippocrates, Aretæus, Galen, and Celsus.—For a Doctor's Degree in Medicine, a dissertation upon some subject, to be approved of by the Regius Professor of Medicine, is to be publicly recited in the Schools, and a copy of it afterwards delivered to the professor. ### REGULATIONS.

Proceedings in Physic. M.B.—A student, before he can become a Bachelor of Physic, must have entered on his sixth year, computed from the date of his first admission at the University, have resided nine terms, and have passed the previous examination, which is of a kind similar to that in the University of London.

The examination in Chemistry and Botany may take place after the expiration of three years from his first admission at the University; that in Anatomy and Medicine after the expiration of four years.

The exercises for this degree are one Act and one Opponency (academical disputations).

Note.—In the Act, two questions or subjects for discussion are proposed; the first by the respondent or candidate, the second by the professor. After the thesis has been read by the respondent, the opponent, who is a candidate for the same degree, is called by the professor to bring forward arguments against the propositions of the thesis. If there be no opponent, the arguments are propounded by the professor. The annual public assembly for conferring degrees, called at Oxford the "Act," is named at Cambridge the "Commencement." The name of Act applies, therefore, to proceedings at the two universities which are not identical.

Degrees at Cambridge are conferred on the Monday and Saturday immediately preceding Commencement-Day—(viz., on the 2nd and 4th of July, for 1853).

The ceremony on Commencement-Day is the completion of the degrees of Masters of Arts and Doctors of all the Faculties, by a form called "Creation."

Creation to degrees takes place on the day of Commencement. But degrees are conferred on any Congregation-day in term; and there are about eighteen such days in the year.

L.M.—Candidates for a licence ad practicandum in Medicinâ, being previously Bachelors of Physic, are required to produce certificates of their having attended hospital practice for three years, exclusive of the nine terms which they kept by residence for the degree of Bachelor of Physic, and of their having attended lectures on the following subjects—viz., Practice of Physic and Pathology, Anatomy and Physiology, Chemistry, Botany, Medical Jurisprudence, Materia Medica and Pharmacy, Principles of Surgery, Principles of Midwifery, Practical Anatomy—for two seasons.

Candidates for a licence ad practicandum in Medicinâ, being previously Masters of Arts, are required to bring satisfactory evidence of their having been employed in the study of Physic for five years, after they became Bachelors of Arts, and to produce certificates of their having attended on hospital practice for three of the said five years, and of their having attended lectures on the subjects before mentioned.

Every candidate for a licence ad practicandum in Medicinâ, is required to pass an examination of the Regius Professor of Physic, the Professor of Anatomy, the Downing Professor of Medicine, and a Doctor of Physic, to be nominated by the Vice-Chancellor, and approved by the senate. There are two such examinations in every year.

This licence gives the privilege of practising medicine in any part of the United Kingdom, except in London and within seven miles thereof, for which the diploma or licence of the College of Physicians is necessary.

M.D.—The degree of Doctor of Physic is granted to a Bachelor of Physic of five years', or to a Master of Arts of seven years' standing. The exercises for this degree are two Acts and one Opponency.

Every candidate for the degree of Doctor of Physic is required to produce the same certificates, and pass the same examination, as are required in the case of candidates for a licence ad practicandum in Medicinâ.

STUDENTSHIPS.

There are two studentships of the college, in Human and Comparative Anatomy, held by each student for the term of two years, at a salary of one hundred pounds per annum. Candidates must be members of the college, under twenty-six years of age. The appointment is made in the month of June, or as soon after as possible. The students are subject to such duties and restrictions as the Council may from time to time direct; and in case of misconduct are liable to dismissal.

N.B. Candidates for the appointment must transmit their applications to the Secretary on or before the 1st of May, together with certificates of general good character and of fair acquirements in general learning, signed by two qualified members of the medical profession.

The studentships having been instituted for the cultivation and extension of Human and Comparative Anatomy and Physiology, by means of the opportunities afforded at the college in the preservation and enlargement of the Museum, and in the various scientific labours connected with that department, are held under the following

REGULATIONS.

The students are required to devote their whole time to the study of Anatomy, Physiology, and the connected branches of knowledge, and to the service of the college in the Museum.

They shall not undertake any other employment, such as that of demonstrator, lecturer, or teacher; nor shall they engage in private practice, either as principal or assistant; and they shall avoid all appearance of practising, by designating their profession on the doors of their residences.

They shall be employed at the college in such manner as shall be pointed out by the Conservators, whose directions they shall in all instances obey, referring to them in all matters on which they may entertain doubts.

They shall not be absent from their duties in the Museum (except in the case subsequently specified) without the permission of the Conservators; nor shall they leave London without permission of the President and the knowledge of the Chairman of the Museum Committee.

They shall attend to their duties in the college from ten A.M. to four P.M., daily, except on Sunday, and on one other day in each week, on which they are allowed to visit their respective hospitals, and to read in the library of the college. On particular occasions, when the business of the Museum shall require it, they shall attend, under the directions of the Conservators, earlier or later than the hours above-mentioned.

Each student is also required to attend in the museum, for the purpose of giving information to visitors, one day in each week from twelve to four o'clock, and on any other day when the Conservators, with the sanction of the Museum Committee, shall so direct.

They shall record, in books provided for that purpose, the histories of their respective dissections, and the particulars of their other occupations in the college; and they shall lay such books before the Museum Committee at least once a month.

It is expected that they make themselves familiar with everything relating to the practical study of Anatomy, such as the use of the microscope, the dissection of small animals, the art of preserving animal substances, of injecting and putting up anatomical preparations.

It is also hoped that they will devote a portion of each evening to the perusal of works on Anatomy and Physiology, and on the auxiliary branches of knowledge.

The General commanding the Army in Chief, the Lords Commissioners of the Admiralty, and the Court of Directors of the Hon. East India Company, have, with the view of promoting the objects of the college in the institution of these studentships, been pleased to place at the disposal of the President and Council an assistant-surgeoncy in each service, once in three years, for such of the said students as may be considered worthy of these honourable distinctions.

MUSEUM.

The Museum is open to the members of the college, to the trustees of the Hunterian collection, and to visitors introduced by them personally or by written orders stating their names (which orders are not transferable), on the public days, which are Mondays, Tuesdays, Wednesdays, and Thursdays, from twelve to four o'clock; except during the month of September, when the Museum is closed.

The museum is also open on the above days to all fellows and licentiates of the Royal College of Physicians in London; to peers and members of parliament; to the great officers of State, and of the Royal Household and their immediate deputies; to all the dignitaries of the Church and of the Law; to all general and flag officers; to the members of all the learned and scientific bodies in the United Kingdom; to the members of all the government boards, and to others introduced personally by them respectively. It is also open to all learned and scientific foreigners, and to the articulated students of the college.

Any one desirous of devoting especial study to particular departments of the Museum, may have access for that purpose on Fridays, from twelve to four in winter, and from twelve to five in summer, on making a written application to the President.

Persons desirous of comparing specimens with those in the Museum, or of having specimens examined, or of gaining other information, are requested to present themselves on Saturdays from ten to one o'clock.

Microscopic demonstrations are given, by the Resident Conservator, every Wednesday, from the beginning of October until the commencement of the annual course of lectures.

LIBRARY.

The Library is open daily, Sundays excepted, to members and articulated students of the college, from ten until four o'clock during the winter months, and from ten until five o'clock during the summer months.

The following are Abstracts of Clauses in the "Act to defray the Charge of the Pay, Clothing and Contingent and other Expenses of the Disembodied Militia in Great Britain and Ireland; to grant Allowances to Officers, Surgeons, Assistant-Surgeons, Surgeons' Mates, &c., of the Militia," Victoria 15 and 16, cap. 74.

30th June, 1852.

Clause 11 enacts that the allowances granted to certain paymasters, surgeons, and quarter-masters, of the militia, on their being reduced, in pursuance of an Act passed in the tenth year of George IV., shall be issued and paid during the continuance of this Act, and it shall be lawful for the secretary-at-war to place any such paymaster, surgeon, or quarter-master, when unfit for further duty, upon a retired allowance equal to, and instead of, his reduced allowance.

Clause 14 enacts that every paymaster, surgeon, or quarter-master, on the reduced allowance, and every subaltern officer, surgeon's-mate, and assistant-surgeon of the militia, who shall claim to be entitled to allowances, shall regularly attend the exercise and training of the regiment, battalion, or corps to which he belongs, during the whole of the time it shall be assembled for that purpose, on pain of forfeiting the said allowance, as well as all arrears of the said allowance and of pay. Provided always that for any special cause or unavoidable necessity it shall be lawful for the commanding-officer to grant leave of absence in writing.

Clause 18 provides that nothing in this Act contained shall be construed to entitle any paymaster, surgeon, quarter-master, subaltern-officer, surgeon's-mate, or assistant-surgeon, to the said allowance, or any part thereof, during the time the militia to which he belongs shall be embodied or assembled for training and exercise.

Clause 31 enacts that "Whereas it is expedient that the deputy-lieutenants acting in any sub-division of any county, stewardry, city, or place, in Great Britain, and the special deputy-wardens acting in any sub-division in the stannaries of the counties of Cornwall and Devon, should be assisted by the advice of a surgeon in deciding upon the appeals of persons claiming to be exempt from service in the militia, by reason of bodily infirmity, and upon the fitness for service of the persons presenting themselves for enrolment: It shall be lawful for any two deputy-lieutenants, and they are hereby empowered and required to summon, by two days' previous notice in writing, any competent surgeon, residing at, or nearest to, the place where any meeting for appeals or enrolment shall be held, to attend at such meeting. * * * And every such surgeon shall receive, for each day's attendance at such meeting, a sum not less than half-a-guinea, nor exceeding two guineas, according to the extent of duty performed."

NAVAL MEDICAL SERVICE,

ADMIRALTY OFFICE, SOMERSET HOUSE.

Director-General of the Medical Department of the Navy, Sir William Burnett, K.C.B., K.C.H., M.D., F.R.S.

REGULATIONS—DATED AUGUST 1, 1850.

The Lords Commissioners of the Admiralty have directed "that no person be admitted as an Assistant-Surgeon, in the Royal Navy, who shall not produce a certificate from one of the Royal Colleges of Surgeons of England, Edinburgh, or Dublin, or from the Faculty of Physicians and Surgeons of Glasgow, of his fitness for that office; nor as a Surgeon, unless he shall produce a diploma, or certificate, from one of the said royal colleges or faculty, founded on an examination to be passed subsequently to his appointment of assistant-surgeon, as to the candidate's fitness for the situation of surgeon in the navy; and in every case the candidate producing such certificate, or diploma, shall also undergo a further examination before the Director-General of the Medical Department of the Navy, touching his qualifications in all the necessary branches and points of medicine and surgery for each of the steps in the naval medical service." Previously to the admission of assistant-surgeons into the navy, it will be required that they produce proof of having received a preliminary classical education, and that they possess in particular a competent knowledge of Latin; also,

That they are of good moral character, the certificate of which must be signed by the clergyman of the parish, or by a magistrate of the district.

That they have served an apprenticeship, or have been engaged for not less than six months in practical pharmacy.

That their age be not less than twenty years, nor more than twenty-four years; and that they are unmarried.

That they have actually attended a hospital in London, Edinburgh, Dublin, Glasgow, Aberdeen, or Manchester, for two years subsequently to the age of eighteen, in which hospital the average number of patients is not less than 150.

That they have been engaged in actual dissections of the human body twelve months; the certificate of which from the teacher must state the number of subjects or parts dissected by the candidate.

That they have attended lectures, &c., on the following subjects, at established schools, by physicians or surgeons of the recognised Colleges of Physicians and Surgeons, in the United Kingdom, for periods not less than below stated; observing, however, that such lectures will not be admitted if the teacher shall lecture on more than one branch of science, or if the lectures on Anatomy, Surgery, and Medicine be not attended during three distinct winter sessions of six months each:—

Anatomy, eighteen months; or General Anatomy, twelve months, and Comparative Anatomy, six months.

Surgery, eighteen months; or General Surgery, twelve months, and Military Surgery, six months.

Theory of Medicine, six months; practice of Medicine, twelve months. (If the lectures on the theory and practice of Medicine be given in conjunction, then the period required is eighteen months.)

Clinical lectures (at an hospital as above) on the practice of Medicine, six months; on the practice of Surgery, six months.

Chemistry, six months; or lectures on Chemistry, three months; and practical Chemistry, three months.

Materia Medica, six months.

Midwifery, six months, accompanied by certificates stating the number of midwifery cases personally attended.

Botany, six months; or General Botany, three months, and Medical Botany, three months.

N.B.—Six months' lectures on Pathology, if given at an university where there may be a professorship on that branch of science, will be admitted in lieu of six months' lectures on the practice of Medicine.

In addition to the tickets for the lectures, certificates must be produced from the professors, &c., by whom the lectures were given, stating the periods (in months) actually attended by the candidates. The time, also, of actual attendance at an hospital or infirmary must be certified.

A favourable consideration will be given to the cases of those who have obtained the degree of M.D. at Oxford, Cambridge, Edinburgh, Dublin, Glasgow, London, or Aberdeen; or who, by possessing a knowledge of diseases of the eye, and of any branch of science connected with the profession, such as Medical Jurisprudence, Natural History, Natural Philosophy, &c., appear to be more peculiarly eligible for admission into the service; observing, however, that lectures on these or any other subjects cannot be admitted as compensating for any deficiency in those required by the regulations.

By the rules of the service, no assistant-surgeon can be promoted to the rank of surgeon until he shall have served three years, (one year of which must be in a ship actually employed at sea,) and can produce a diploma from one of the before-mentioned Royal Colleges, or the Faculty of Physicians and Surgeons, and it is resolved that not any diploma or certificate of examination from either of the aforesaid royal colleges shall be admitted toward the qualification for surgeon, unless the diploma or certificate shall be obtained on an examination passed after a period of not less than three years' actual service; observing that no one can be admitted to an examination before the director-general for surgeon, unless, as hereinbefore mentioned, he can produce a diploma, together with the most satisfactory certificates, that he has performed, on the dead body, under the superintendance of a professor or teacher of known eminence, all the capital operations of Surgery, and is perfectly competent to perform any operation with skill and dexterity, and thoroughly acquainted with the anatomy of the parts involved in such operation; without which qualification, no one hereafter can be promoted to the higher branches of the service; and whenever assistant-surgeons already in the service, (whose professional education may not be in accordance with the above,) obtain leave to study previously to their passing for surgeon, they will be required, on their examination, to produce testimonials of their having availed themselves of the period of leave to complete their education agreeably to these regulations generally.

Candidates who may be admitted into the naval medical service, must serve in whatever ships, &c., they may be appointed to; and, in the event of their being unable to do so from sea-sickness, their names cannot be continued on the naval medical list, nor can they, of course, be allowed half-pay.

By an Admiralty Circular, dated July 17, 1850, assistant-surgeons are to be divided into two classes.

The first class to consist of all who have completed three years' servitude from the period of their first entry, (one year of which must be served on board a commissioned ship, and the other two may be served in one of the naval hospitals,) and who have passed their examination for surgeon either at home or abroad.

“Assistant-surgeons who have served more than three years, and have passed the examination for surgeon under the above conditions, are to rank next to naval instructors, and are to mess with the board-room officers, to be allowed cabins when the accommodation and space on board will admit.”

The second class of assistant-surgeons to consist of all those who have not served three years, and those who have not passed their examination for surgeon.

First-class assistant-surgeons, who may be serving in small vessels commanded by lieutenants, are to mess in the guard-room with the other officers.

Bell, Esq.—Surgeon of the Eye Infirmary, Mr. France—Apothecary, Mr. Stocker.

This hospital was founded by Thomas Guy in 1724. It contains 549 beds. Patients are admitted on application, and require no letter of recommendation. The day for general admission is Wednesday, at ten o'clock; but accidents and cases of urgent disease are received at all hours.

Students must give satisfactory testimony as to their education and conduct; they will be required to pay 40*l.* for the first year, 40*l.* for the second, and 10*l.* for every succeeding year of attendance. The sum of 100*l.* in a single payment entitles the student to a perpetual ticket.

The ticket for the year will admit to the lectures, practice, and all the privileges of a student, and for that year only.

Dressers, clinical clerks, assistants, and resident obstetric clerks, are selected from those students who have attended a second year. The privileges of a student will be withdrawn for neglect or misconduct.

ABERNETHIAN SOCIETY, ST. BARTHOLOMEW'S HOSPITAL.

SESSION 1852-53.

Vice-Presidents—Mr. Rhind, Mr. Callender, Mr. Terry, Mr. Humfrey.

Treasurer—Dr. Roupell.

The Abernethian Society was established by Mr. Abernethy, and other gentlemen, at St. Bartholomew's Hospital in 1797, for the promotion of Medical Science among the students and those who had been educated at St. Bartholomew's, by the formation of a Library and a Medical Debating Society. In course of time, however, the Library became disconnected from the Society, which is now solely a Medical Debating Association, confined exclusively to St. Bartholomew's men, whether students or practitioners. For many years Mr. Abernethy presided in person at the meetings of the Society; since when, Mr. Lawrence, Mr. Samuel Cooper, Mr. Stanley, and Dr. Gooch, have successively filled the presidential chair.

The Society meets every Thursday Evening, at eight o'clock, from the second Thursday in October to the third Thursday in March. Papers are read and morbid specimens exhibited at its meetings. The election of officers is annual, and takes place at the last meeting of the Society in March.

The sum of ten guineas paid in addition to the entrance fee, or in addition to any arrears due, exempts from future payments. The Library (containing some 16,000 works) and Reading-Room are open daily (Sundays excepted), for the loan and exchange of books, and the perusal of the periodicals, from 11 A.M. till 6 P.M. The Meetings of the Society commence on the second Saturday in October, and continue weekly (except during a short recess at Christmas) till the last Saturday in May, the chair being taken, on each Ordinary Meeting evening, at 8 o'clock. The Society offers annually, to the author of the best dissertation on a subject proposed, a Gold Medal, value twenty guineas, called the Fothergillian Medal. The dissertations in competition for this medal must be written in the English or Latin language, legible, and delivered at the Society's Rooms on or before the 1st of November preceding the award, with a sealed packet, containing the author's name, and having, on the outside, a motto or device corresponding with a motto or device on the dissertation. Any dissertation in the author's handwriting, or with his name affixed, or which may in any way discover him, is excluded from competition. The prize dissertation becomes the property of the Society. The subjects for 1851, in which year two medals were awarded, were "Phthisis" and "Uterine Hæmorrhage." The subject for 1852 was "The Mode in which Therapeutic Agents introduced into the Stomach produce their peculiar effects on the Animal Economy." The successful competitors for these medals were respectively, R. P. Cotton, Esq., M.D., R. Hodges, Esq., F.R.C.S., and F. W. The Society also offers for competition two Silver Medals annually, for Papers considered worthy of that distinction, and contributed respectively by a Subscribing Fellow, and an Honorary or Corresponding Fellow, or author not a Fellow. The learned of all countries are invited to become candidates for these medals, which are presented at the Anniversary of the Society, on the 8th of March.

Any further information required, and copies of the Statutes of the Society, may be obtained at the Society's Rooms during the hours they are open.

The Fellows consist of Physicians, Surgeons, and "General Practitioners." The Session of this Society commences on the second Tuesday in November, and the meetings are held on every second and fourth Tuesday of the month, until the termination of the session in June. The mode of admission is by ballot, which takes place three times in a session. A candidate must have his recommendatory paper signed by at least three Fellows of the Society. The recommendation is read from the chair at one of the ordinary meetings, and afterwards suspended for five meetings in the library of the Society. It is necessary for election that the candidate have four-fifths of the votes in his favour. The fee for admission is 6*l.* 6*s.*; the annual subscription, 3*l.* 3*s.* The admission fee carries the resident Fellow over the first year; and those living beyond seven miles from London pay nothing further to the Society, except they become eligible to receive the "Transactions," a volume of which is published annually. They then compound for this by a payment of 12*l.* 12*s.* The library, which is very extensive, and supplied with all the British and foreign periodicals, is open during the entire year (with the exception of a week or two in September) from 1 P.M. to 6. Resident Fellows have the privilege of taking a certain number of volumes from the library for home reading. Resident Fellows are entitled to the "Transactions" without payment. The President takes the chair at half-past eight exactly, and adjourns the meeting at 10. Anniversary Meeting, March 1, at four P.M.

This Society was established (now nineteen years ago), by a number of the Medical Students of King's College, with the design of promoting, as well a feeling of friendship and co-operation, as a spirit of inquiry and original observation.

It is essentially a Students' Society; receiving as Members all Students of King's College, and of other Medical Schools; and having for its express object their mutual instruction and improvement. All who attain distinction in Medical Science, or advance the objects and interests of the Society, are eligible as Honorary Members. From among these the Vice-Presidents are elected; and from them also, together with the ordinary Members, the Secretaries, Treasurer, and Council, are chosen. Thus all the offices of the Society are open to its Members, save only that of President, which is filled by a Professor.

At each meeting of the Society a paper is read by one of the Members, and its contents are afterwards made the subject of discussion among those who are present. The paper may be either an essay on some topic of medical study, or a clinical history of cases of disease. It is quite voluntary on the part of Members whether they read papers before the Society or not. Those who intend to do so are required to give notice of their intention, and of the subject chosen, to the secretaries. The papers are read in the order in which they are received.

To encourage the writing of good essays, and to promote the exhibition of talent in discussion, the Society has instituted two prizes: one of 5*l.* for an Essay on a subject selected annually by the Dean of the Medical Department; the other, a certificate for discussion. The former is awarded by two of the Medical Professors; the latter by the votes of the Members taken at the last General Meeting.

Applications for Membership are to be addressed, in writing, to the Honorary Secretaries, King's College, who will announce them at the next meeting. Gentlemen are elected by ballot, after having been proposed and seconded by Members. Certificates of Membership are provided for those desirous of them. Members generally, who have completed their medical curriculum, and are about to reside in the country, are elected Corresponding Members of the Society, and may receive certificates thereof.

The Annual Subscription, payable on election, is 10s. 6d.

The Meetings will take place every Thursday evening, at half-past seven o'clock precisely. Each member has the privilege of introducing two friends.

The Council of the Medical Benevolent College earnestly solicit the attention of the Public to this recently formed Society, by which it is proposed to supply a home, with additional assistance, to reduced Members of the Profession and their necessitous Widows, and a School for the Education of the Sons of Medical Practitioners generally.

Whilst many Societies have long existed for the relief of particular classes of the community from those casualties against which no foresight can adequately provide, it is remarkable that no general association should have been established for the benefit of Members of the Medical Profession, numerous as they are, and exposed as they are to special exigencies and peculiar vicissitudes.

It is scarcely necessary to point out the claims of Medical Men upon the public at large. It may not be out of place, however, to intimate that by no profession are so many valuable services gratuitously rendered. Nor should it be forgotten, that the Medical Practitioner stands in close and intimate relation to both poor and rich, who, when labouring under the mental and moral prostration often consequent on physical suffering, are equally in need of some judicious adviser. Ever at the call of the public, constant labour without recreation or change of place is his general lot. His life is shortened by professional and personal anxiety and toil, and by exposure to infection. From his position he is led to marry early; hence, when he falls into distressed circumstances, his fate is frequently shared by a wife and children. His calling is neither political nor public, but essentially social; society imposes upon him peculiar duties; surely, then, in his day of need, he has special claims upon society for consideration and assistance.

The undertaking now recommended to public notice is the establishment of a Medical Benevolent College, which will include:—

First,—An Asylum, in which 100 pensioners, who must be duly qualified Medical Men, or their Widows, (possessing incomes of at least £15 a year,) shall be provided with three furnished rooms each, and with such additional assistance and accommodation as the funds may permit. The Council, however, confidently hope, that the Society will be enabled wholly to support some few deserving persons not possessed of the required income.

Secondly,—A School, in which a liberal education will be given to 100 boys, the sons of duly qualified Medical Men; the majority of whom will pay £25 a year each for education, board, lodging, and washing; while the rest will be Orphans educated and maintained entirely at the expense of the Society.

There will be a Chapel for Divine Worship.

The outlay for a site and buildings, including fittings and furniture, is estimated at £20,000. The whole yearly expenditure in providing suitable allowances to the pensioners, in the remuneration of officers, and in other establishment charges, is calculated at £1500.

There are but few Medical Benevolent Institutions; and these are limited to peculiar localities; or are merely provident, and afford relief to subscribers only; or, on the other hand, are simply for the casual assistance of the indigent. There is no institution calculated to provide an Asylum for those Members of the Profession, who, having ever maintained a respectable position, have yet been unable to secure an adequate provision for the infirmities of age or the necessities of their families; and, further, to supply for the children of Medical Men a liberal education suited to their condition of life.

When the very large number of Medical Men in England and Wales is taken into consideration, to whom principally an appeal might be deemed appropriate, the funds required to complete this undertaking may seem small; the Profession, however, is far from wealthy. To the Public, therefore, as well as to the Profession, do the Council appeal for assistance; and from the latter, they solicit not merely pecuniary aid, but what is more valuable, zealous, active, and personal co-operation.

In submitting this benevolent project to the support of the public, the Council anxiously hope that, notwithstanding the many Charitable Institutions so munificently supported throughout this Christian land, they may be enabled to enlist the sympathies and co-operation of those who are blessed with the disposition, as well as the means of alleviating the afflictions and sorrows of mankind, and that this appeal in behalf of a numerous and deserving class of professional men, who have never been obtrusive in urging their claims for assistance in a season of need, will be liberally responded to: and they confidently trust that they may soon be justified in making the necessary arrangements for carrying out their plans, by which much human suffering will be averted, and the declining years of many deserving objects relieved from care and anxiety, through the solace of an Asylum in which they may peacefully and calmly prepare for that termination of earthly labours and toils which equally awaits both rich and poor.

Further information may be obtained by addressing the Honorary Secretary, Henry Tudor Davies, Esq., 4, Hanover-square, where subscriptions will be received, as well as by the Treasurer and the following Bankers:—Goslings and Sharpe, 19, Fleet-street; Coutts and Co., 59, Strand; Drummonds, Charing Cross; Glyn and Co., 67, Lombard-street; Scott and Co., 1, Cavendish-square; Messrs. This Society was formed in the year 1778, by Dr. Thomas Denman, Dr. Richard Dennison, Dr. Andrew Douglas, Dr. John Sims, Dr. J. Squire, Mr. William Chamberlain, and Mr. Thomas Randall, with the object of establishing a fund for relief of those Widows and Orphans of deceased Members who might need and be deserving of assistance.

The Society's affairs are managed by a President, twelve Vice-Presidents, three Treasurers, and Twenty-four Directors, who are elected by the Members annually, and whose services are gratuitous.

The permanent efficiency of the Society depends on the maintenance of a due proportion between the available income, and the claims made on the funds. Computations have been made by experienced actuaries on points susceptible of calculation by way of average.

The proportion of Members whose families may become claimants for relief, scarcely admits of calculation; but the experience of sixty years has proved the wisdom and benevolence with which the Society was planned, and the prudence and efficiency with which its affairs have been conducted.

The Society is enrolled among Friendly Societies: the capital stock is invested in government securities, chiefly with the National Debt Commissioners, and amounts to more than 50,000*l.* sterling. More than 42,000*l.* have been distributed among persons eligible to receive relief.

103 Widows and 157 Children have been relieved since 1793. 37 Widows and 24 Children are now receiving relief, which amounts to more than 1600*l.* per annum. The Society contains—Life Members, 224; Annual Subscribers, 130—Total, 354.

A General Court of the Members is held twice a year—viz., in April and October.

A Court of Directors is held on the third Wednesday in the months of March, June, September, and December, when Members are admitted by Ballot.

The Secretary attends every Wednesday from four to five P.M., at the Office of the Society, 53, Berners-street. Laws, Lists, and Forms of Proposal, may be obtained on personal application; or they will be forwarded on enclosing a postage-stamp for each.

MEDICAL WITNESSES' ACT.

6 & 7 WM. 4, c. 89.

An Act to provide for the attendance and remuneration of Medical Witnesses at Coroners' Inquests. [17th Aug. 1836.]

WHEREAS it is expedient to provide for the attendance of medical witnesses at coroners' inquests, also remuneration for such attendance, and for the performance of post-mortem examinations at such inquests; be it therefore enacted by the King's most excellent Majesty, by and with the advice and consent of the Lords spiritual and temporal, and Commons in this present Parliament assembled, and by the authority of the same, that from and after the passing of this Act, whenever, upon the summoning or holding of any coroner's inquest, it shall appear to the coroner that the deceased person was attended at his death or during his last illness by any legally qualified medical practitioner, it shall be lawful for the coroner to issue his order, in the form marked (A.) in the schedule hereunto annexed, for the attendance of such practitioner as a witness at such inquest; and if it shall appear to the coroner that the deceased person was not attended at or immediately before his death by any legally qualified medical practitioner, it shall be lawful for the coroner to issue such order for the attendance of any legally qualified medical practitioner being at the time in actual practice in or near the place where the death has happened; and it shall be lawful for the coroner, either in his order for the attendance of the medical witness, or at any time between the issuing of such order and the termination of the inquest, to direct the performance of a post-mortem examination, with or without an analysis of the contents of the stomach or intestines, by the medical witness or witnesses who may be summoned to attend at any inquest; provided that if any person shall state upon oath before the coroner that in his or her belief the death of the deceased individual was caused partly or entirely by the improper or negligent treatment of any medical practitioner or other person, such medical practitioner or other person shall not be allowed to perform or assist at the post-mortem examination of the deceased.

II. And be it further enacted, That whenever it shall appear to the greater number of the jurymen sitting at any coroner's inquest, that the cause of death has not been satisfactorily explained by the evidence of the medical practitioner or other witness or witnesses who may be examined in the first instance, such greater number of the jurymen are hereby authorized and empowered to name to the coroner in writing any other legally qualified medical practitioner or practitioners, and to require the coroner to issue his order, in the form hereinbefore mentioned, for the attendance of such last-mentioned medical practitioner or practitioners as a witness or witnesses, and for the performance of a post-mortem examination, with or without an analysis of the contents of the stomach or intestines, whether such an examination has been performed before or not; and if the coroner, having been thereunto required, shall refuse to issue such order, he shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanour, and shall be punishable in like manner as if the same were a misdemeanour at common law.

III. And be it further enacted, That when any legally qualified medical practitioner has attended upon any coroner's inquest in obedience to any such order as aforesaid of the coroner, the said practitioner shall for such attendance at any inquest in Great Britain be entitled to receive such remuneration or fee as is mentioned in the table in the schedule hereunto annexed; and for any inquest held in Ireland the said practitioner shall be paid in the manner provided by the laws in force in that part of the United Kingdom; and the coroner is hereby required and commanded to make his order for the payment of such remuneration or fee, when the inquest shall be held in Great Britain, and such order may be addressed and directed to the churchwardens and overseers of the parish or place in which the death has happened; and such churchwardens and overseers, or any one of them, is and are hereby required and commanded to pay the sum of money mentioned in such order of the coroner to the medical witness therein mentioned, out of the funds collected for the relief of the poor of the said place.*

IV. Provided nevertheless, and be it further enacted, That no order of payment shall be given, or fee or remuneration paid, to any medical practitioner, for the performance of any post-mortem examination which may be instituted without the previous direction of the coroner.

V. Provided also, and be it further enacted, That when any inquest shall be holden on the body of any person who has died in any public hospital or infirmary, or in any building or place belonging thereto, or used for the reception of the patients thereof, or who has died in any county or other lunatic asylum, or in any public infirmary or other public medical institution, whether the same be supported by endowments or by voluntary subscriptions, then and in such case nothing herein contained shall be construed to entitle the medical officer whose duty it may have been to attend the deceased person as a medical officer of such institution as aforesaid, to the fees or remuneration herein provided.

VI. And be it further enacted, That where any order for the attendance of any medical practitioner as aforesaid shall have been personally served upon such practitioner, or where any such order not personally served shall have been received by any medical practitioner in sufficient time for him to have obeyed such order, or where any such order has been served at the residence of any medical practitioner, and in every case where any medical practitioner has not obeyed such order, he shall for such neglect or disobedience forfeit the sum of five pounds sterling, upon complaint thereof made by the coroner or any two of the jury before any two justices having jurisdiction in the parish or place where the inquest under which the order issued was held, or in the parish where such medical practitioner resides; and such two justices are hereby required, upon such complaint, to proceed to the hearing and adjudication of such complaint, and, if such medical practitioner shall not show to the said justices a good and sufficient cause for not having obeyed such order, to enforce the said penalty by distress and sale of the offender's goods, as they are empowered to proceed by any Act of Parliament for any other penalty or forfeiture.

VII. And be it enacted, That nothing in this Act contained shall extend to Scotland.

DUTIES ON LEGACIES.

*Of the Value of 20*l.* or upwards, out of Personal Estate, or charged upon Real Estate, &c.; and upon every share of Residue:—*

To a child or parent, or any lineal descendant or ancestor of the deceased, 1*l.* per cent.; to a brother or sister, or their descendants, 3*l.* per cent.; to an uncle or aunt, or their descendants, 5*l.* per cent.; to a great uncle or great aunt, or their descendants, 6*l.* per cent.; to any other relation, or any stranger in blood, 10*l.* per cent. Legacy to husband or wife, exempt.

N.B.—Wills.—By the new Wills Act, all property may be disposed of by will; all wills must be in writing, and each must be signed at the bottom or end by the testator, or, if he is unable, by some person on his behalf, by his direction, and in his presence; and two, or more, attesting witnesses (who must be present at the same time) must also sign the will. If the testator wishes to acknowledge or reward the attesting witnesses, he must do it in some other way than by bequeathing them anything: for legacies to attesting witnesses, or to the wife or husband of an attesting witness, are void. No person under twenty-one can make a valid will. Wills are revoked by subsequent marriage; otherwise a will can only be revoked by destruction, or by the making of a new one; and alterations in wills must be made in the same manner as a will is made. Wills are to be construed as if made immediately before the death of the testator, unless a contrary intention is expressed; and properties bequeathed in general terms include all property in the possession of the testator at his decease, whether acquired before or after the will was made.

[If persons make their own wills, without legal assistance, let them express themselves in a plain simple way, avoiding roundabout phrases, or attempts to imitate legal phraseology.]

Tenancy.—A yearly tenant must take care that he gives notice to quit his premises half a year before the time of the expiration of the current year of his tenancy. If, by agreement, a quarter's notice is to be sufficient, such notice must also expire with the tenancy, if that is yearly.

GENERAL POST OFFICE REGULATIONS.

EVENING MAILS.

The receiving houses in London are open for general post letters till half-past five or till six, P.M., if the letters bear an additional 1d. stamp as a fee; and at St. Martin's-le-Grand and the branch offices, at Charing-cross, Old Cavendish-street, Stones'-end, Southwark, and Lombard-street, till six, without fee; at the first three branch offices till a quarter to seven; at Lombard-street and the General Post Office, St. Martin's-le-Grand, till seven, with an additional 1d. stamp; and at St. Martin's-le-Grand till half-past seven P.M., with a fee of 6d. All letters, in order to go free, must now be stamped not paid for; and the extra penny on all inland letters to be paid by a stamp, but upon foreign, colonial, or ship letters, the penny must be paid in money.

General post letters are charged by weight, as follows:—

Letters not exceeding $\frac{1}{2}$ oz.,	one postage
Do.	1 oz., two postages
Do.	2 oz., four postages
Do.	3 oz., six postages;

and so on, adding two postages for every ounce; but parliamentary papers are an exception. If the weight of the letter should exceed the value of the stamps attached, the excess will be charged double: thus, a letter weighing more than half an ounce, but not exceeding an ounce, if bearing 1d. stamp only, will be charged an additional 2d. on delivery. Shilling stamps and twopenny stamps are also now issued.

Newspapers, to go the same day, must be put into the General Post Office before six o'clock; but those put in before half-past seven o'clock will go the same evening by paying a halfpenny with each. In the branch offices they must be put in before half-past five, and at the receiving houses before five. They must be sent in covers open at the sides; and to go free, no words or communication must be printed on such paper after the same shall have been published, nor any writing or marks upon such printed paper, or the cover thereof, other than the name and address of the person to whom it is sent; but, by affixing a stamp conspicuously on the cover, the paper itself may be written on, but this exemption does not apply to papers sent abroad. Single books may also be sent by post, open at the ends, at the rate of 6d. per pound, which must be prepaid by stamps, every fraction being reckoned as a pound. Single books may also be sent to the West Indies and Nova Scotia; under a half pound 6d., above, 1s., and 1s. for each pound or fraction of a pound above, prepaid by stamps.

British newspapers sent to foreign countries (where they are permitted to go free through the foreign post) go free; but if otherwise, they are charged a British postage of 2d. each; or a rate equivalent to the foreign rate. French and Belgian newspapers are subject to a postage in England of one halfpenny. English papers pay in France a postage of five centimes.

Newspapers to and from the colonies are transmitted free (unless sent by private ships), and must be posted within a week of their publication.

MORNING MAILS.

The letter boxes at the receiving houses will be open till seven A.M. for newspapers, and forty-five minutes past seven A.M. for letters; and those at the branch offices, Charing-cross, Old Cavendish-street, and the Borough, for the reception of newspapers until half-past seven A.M., and for letters until eight A.M. At the General Post Office and the branch office in Lombard-street, the boxes will close for newspapers at a quarter before eight A.M., and for letters at half-past eight A.M. Mail dispatched at half-past nine A.M. Letters and newspapers for Ireland, posted at any receiving office before two, or at any branch office before three, or at St. Martin's-le-Grand by half-past three, are dispatched at five, and reach Dublin early on the following morning.

Members of either Houses of Parliament will be entitled to receive, free of charge, petitions addressed to either House of Parliament, provided they are sent without covers or in covers open at the sides, and do not exceed the weight of thirty-two ounces. Addresses to Her Majesty will likewise go free of postage.

The rate of postage for parliamentary papers is 1d. for every four ounces.

Letters containing coin or articles of value are recommended to be registered. Such letters, and any others, may be registered at any of the receiving houses in London till five o'clock for the evening mail, and at any post-office in the country until within half an hour of the closing of the bag to the place for which they are directed. The fee in any case in Great Britain is 6d. and the postage; and to France, 6d. and double the French postage. Such letters bearing a sufficient number of stamps will pass as paid letters, but the registration fee must in every case be paid in money.

Money orders for sums under 5*l.* are granted by every post-town upon every other post-town in the United Kingdom, on application at the various offices; and also by and upon certain offices in the metropolis, of which the postmasters are furnished with a list, for which a commission of 3*d.* for Two Pounds, and 6*d.* for any sum above Two Pounds and not exceeding Five Pounds, is charged. They must be presented for payment within the second calendar month after their issue, or a fresh order will be charged for, and within the twelfth calendar month, or they will not be paid at all. Post-Office Orders are recommended for small sums; and, if neither that nor registration be adopted, that all bills, notes, &c., be cut in halves, and sent by different posts; the numbers, dates, &c., should also be carefully taken. No money orders are issued or paid on a Sunday.

SUMMARY OF THE BIRTHS, DEATHS, AND MARRIAGES REGISTERED IN ENGLAND AND WALES, IN THE PERIOD FROM 1840 TO 1851 INCLUSIVE.

	Total.	Annual Average.
Births . . . . .	6,608,035	550,000	persons living; 689 deaths are contemporaneous with 1000 births. About one person in every 16,200 in England, dies daily. Nearly sixty-four deaths per hour were estimated to take place in 1851. In this country the deaths increase in the winter months, chiefly from the increase of diseases of the organs of respiration and circulation. Of the children born, one quarter die during the first five years, and one half before attaining the age of forty-five years.
Deaths . . . . .	4,526,225	377,000
Excess of Births over } Deaths . . . . .	2,081,810	173,000
Persons Married . . . . .	3,171,602	268,000
Increase of Population } between 1841 and } 1851 . . . . .	2,008,620	201,000
In England and Wales, therefore, the number of Births is nearly one half more than that of the Deaths. On an average of eleven years (1840-50) to every 1000 of the population, twenty-two have annually died, thirty-three have been annually born, and sixteen persons annually married.
BIRTHS.—To 1000 marriages the average proportion of children is 3781. One birth before marriage occurs for fourteen in wedlock. One birth takes place annually to every thirty-one persons; 1451 births average to 1000 deaths. One birth is the daily average for about 11,200 of the population. About sixty-seven infants were estimated to be born every hour in England in 1851. One mother in 114 gives birth to twins.
DEATHS—One death occurs to forty-four
MARRIAGES.—Throughout 1851, the marriages in England and Wales averaged 394 daily. About one in every sixty-two persons marries in the year. Nearly three women to one man marry under twenty-one years of age. The proportion of minors to the total of persons married is nine per cent.; eleven in 100 of the persons married have been married before—viz., 12·8 men to 8·5 women. Nearly one man in three, and one woman in two, sign the marriage register with a mark. The majority marry in the summer or autumn (births and deaths are more numerous in the cold seasons of the year). Marriage is a gauge of national prosperity: 50,000 more marriages took place in England and Wales in 1845 than in 1842.

CLIMATE OF GREAT BRITAIN.

The climate of England is chiefly characterized by the absence of extremes in temperature, by humidity, and by almost incessant variations within a limited range, peculiarities ascribable to the geographical position of the country, in contiguity with an extensive continent on one hand, and a vast ocean on the other: the winds from the latter, being charged with its exhalations, bring the chief part of the rain that descends, 2-3ds of the whole of it falling on the W. side of the kingdom. According to a series of observations made under the direction of the Royal Society, the S.W. is the most frequent wind in every month of the year, but is more prevalent in July and August than in any other; the N.E. prevails most in Jan., and from March to June, inclusive; whilst the N.W. is most frequent from Nov. to March, and least so in Sept. and Oct. It also appears from the same observations, that rain is less prevalent in March than in Nov., in the proportion of 7 to 12; in April than Oct., in the ratio of 1 to 2; and in May than Sept., in the ratio of 3 to 4: hence the summer, autumn, and earlier part of winter, are the most humid portions of the year. In Cornwall, the annual average quantity of rain falling is 45 inches, and in the W. part of the kingdom, generally, it is found to vary from 30 to 51 in.; in the S. E. counties, and also in the metropolis and its vicinity, the quantity is only from 20 to 25 in. Dr. Dalton makes the whole annual quantity falling on the surface of England and Wales, 31 in.; to which he adds a depth of 5 in. supplied from the atmosphere in the form of dew, and calculates that 23 in. of the whole are carried off by evaporation, and the remaining 13 in. through the medium of the various rivers to the ocean. The thermometer, at the coldest period (Jan.), seldom falls much below the freezing point, and at the warmest (July and Aug.) as rarely rises higher than 80° Fahr., though occasionally instances of greater variation may be cited. In the N. counties the range is still more limited, rarely exceeding 75° or falling more than 3° or 4° below zero: so that their mean annual temperature is within 2° or 3° of those on the S. coast. The most obvious difference that occurs in the local climates of the N. and S. parts of the kingdom is the lateness of spring in the former as compared with the latter; at an average about a fortnight between the cos. N. of the Mersey and Humber, and those of the S. and S.W. The fens on the E. coast, and the wealds of Kent and Sussex, are the only tracts of any extent where the superfluous moisture would, but for artificial means, be retained long enough to generate miasma; in almost every other part of the country the surface has sufficient elevation and inequality to facilitate the free percolation of water, and to conduct the superfluity by natural means to the numerous streams; so that nowhere can its physical structure be said to exert an injurious influence on the climate. The mean daily range of the thermometer on an average of the whole year has been estimated at 11° for the metropolis, 14° for the midland counties generally, and 8° for Cornwall. The mean difference between the coldest and the warmest months of the year has been stated at, for London, 26°, Cornwall, 18½°, and England generally 24½°.

The great drawbacks upon the climate are the prevalence of cold, biting N.E. winds in April, May, and June, and the occasional occurrence of wet summers and harvests.

Scotland has a more rigorous climate than England; but, owing to the proximity of most parts of the country to the sea, and the numerous friths and deep bays by which it is penetrated, it is less severe than might, from the latitude, be expected. The mean annual temperature of places near the level of the ocean, throughout the country, averages about 46½° Fah. At Edinburgh, which is from 300 to 400 feet above the sea-level, the mean temperature of the year is 47·8°, which may be taken as that of the inland parts generally in the S. of Scotland, the mean of the coldest month being 58.3°, and of the warmest 59.4°. A great deal of rain falls in Scotland, but very unequally; for on the E. coast it ranges from 22 to 28 in.; whereas, on the W. coast and in the Hebrides, it ranges from 30 to 44 in. The average fall of rain in Edinburgh is about 23½, and in Glasgow about 29.65 inches. Excess of humidity, and the occurrence of heavy rains in August, September, and October, and of cold piercing E. winds, especially along the E. coast, in the months of April, May, and the first half of June, are the great drawbacks on the climate of Scotland. It is rare, indeed, that the crops suffer from heat or drought; but they frequently suffer from wet and from violent winds, especially in the W. part of the country. The climate is, however, highly salubrious, and favourable alike to longevity, and to the development of the physical and mental powers.

The mean annual temperature of London being taken at 50.39 Fah., that of various places in England to which invalids most frequently resort is estimated as follows:—

Localities.	Mean Temp.
Hastings .....	50.40
St. Leonard's .....	50.
Brighton .....	50.30
Isle of Wight .....	51.35
Hampshire, &c. Coast from Chichester to Southampton ... }	50.24
Salcombe.....	53.50
Torquay .....	52.12
Sidmouth.....	50.19
Penzance .....	51.80
Clifton .....	51.26
Guernsey, Jersey .....	53.06
Chepstow.....	50.30
Ilfracombe .....	50.40
Padstow .....	50.30
St. Ives, Cornwall .....	53.90
Southwold .....	48.
Walmer .....	50.51

Some very judicious remarks on the advantages which many localities in Great Britain present as residences for invalids have appeared in the "General Practitioners' Visiting List," to which we are indebted for the above and a few other details.

"To the invalid, for a summer residence, and to the care-worn inhabitant of the city, for a temporary sojourn in a pure and invigorating air, the British Islands offer advantages fully as great, and discomforts infinitely fewer than a long and toilsome pilgrimage into Switzerland or the South of Europe. (If the mountains of Scotland are not so lofty, they are more accessible and equally salubrious as those of Helvetia. If the Highland glens and valleys are not on a par with those of Grindelwald, Lanterbrunnen, and Meyringen, they are not blotted and deformed by goitre and cretinism. If Windermere, Killarney, and Loch Lomond are not so faultless as Leman, Como, and Bolsena, they are little inferior to them in this respect, and their banks are not the seat of loathsome pellagra and deadly malaria. The mountains and vales of Cambria, unscorched by the enervating Sirocco, and unchilled by the icy Tramontane, surpass the Apennines in beauty and sublimity.) In short, there can be little doubt that, in the search after health, we are accustomed to commit an error, in flying the beneficial influences of our native land."

Hastings and Brighton are recommended to those suffering from gastric, nervous, and dyspeptic complaints; the Isle of Wight, Bournemouth, and other parts of Hampshire, with Torquay, and some other places in Devonshire, Clifton, Swansea, and Broadstairs, for those with pulmonary diseases. The bracing region comprehends the east and north-western coasts of England.

ADAMS, GEORGE, M.D., died July 9th, at his lodgings, New Bond-street. The deceased was formerly physician-general in the H.E.I.C.S. Madras.

ARNOLD, WILLIAM WITHERING, M.D., M.B., 1800; formerly of Trinity College, Cambridge. Died at Leicester, on the 8th of January, aged 77.

ARTHUR, JAMES, one of the most distinguished medical officers in the army, died at Cheltenham, early in the past year, in the seventy-first year of his age. He entered the service of his country in the year 1801, as an assistant-surgeon, and served in the various grades of regimental surgeon, surgeon to the forces, physician to the forces, and deputy inspector-general of hospitals. His services extended to North and South America, Gibraltar, Cadiz, West Indies, and four campaigns in the Peninsula; two as surgeon to the 88th Regiment, and two as superintending medical officer of the third division of that army, under the late gallant and indefatigable Sir Thomas Picton. During these services he was present and professionally employed at the assault of Buenos Ayres, the sieges of Cadiz, Ciudad Rodrigo, and Badajoz, and in the general actions of Fuentes d'Onor, Salamanca, Vittoria, Pyrenees, Nivelles, Nive, Orthes, and Toulouse, as well as with the third division in the minor affairs of Sabugal, Elbador, and Via Bagonia. In recognition of his services in these important battles, Dr. Arthur had awarded to him a medal with ten clasps. After the termination of the war, he served five years in the Windward and Leeward Islands, West Indies, as physician to the forces in that extensive and often unhealthy command. After his return, and during the prevalence of the fatal and alarming epidemic cholera in Scotland, he was employed in the counties of Stirling, Dumbarton, Renfrew, Lanark, and Ayr, but more especially in the city of Glasgow, under the orders and instructions of the London Central Board of Health. His remains were removed from Cheltenham to the family vault in the Island of Cumbreys, Buteshire.

ASHFORD, JOHN, suddenly, June 14th, at Hinckley, Leicester, where he had been in practice upwards of thirty years. The deceased was admitted a member of the College of Surgeons, January 13th, 1837, and a licentiate of Apothecaries' Hall in 1822.

ATKINSON, JAMES. This gentleman expired, August 7th, at his residence in Dorset-square, Regent's-park. The deceased was formerly inspector-general of hospitals in the H.E.I.C.S. Bengal.

BAILLIE, GEORGE, died November 16th, at Montague-place, Poplar, aged 58. The deceased gentleman, who held the appointment of surgeon to the K division of Police, was admitted a member of the Royal College of Surgeons of England on the 7th of October, 1814, and was also M.A. of King's College, Aberdeen.

BELL, ALEXANDER, of Dundee. The late Mr. Bell, M.R.C.S. London, was born in the town of Cupar, Fife, of which borough his father was one of the magistrates. To the excellent schools of this borough Mr. Bell was indebted for his literary education, and here, also, he commenced his professional studies. In due time, he removed to Edinburgh, and zealously devoted himself to the acquirement of professional knowledge, under the medical and surgical professors of that celebrated University. Soon after leaving Edinburgh, he received a commission as surgeon and lieutenant in the Royal Tay Fencibles, with which corps he proceeded to Ireland, and served during the memorable rebellion of 1798, and until the regiment was disbanded in 1802. On the termination of his connexion with the army, Mr. Bell went to London, to carry out still further his professional studies, under the able tuition of two teachers of great celebrity,—viz., Mr. Astley Cooper, afterwards Sir Astley, and the well-known Mr. Saunders, the oculist. Thus excellently prepared for general practice, Mr. Bell settled as a private practitioner in the village of Errol, in Perthshire, where he had great success; but an opening occurring in Dundee, in the year 1807, by the death of Dr. Robert Stewart, an eminent surgeon in extensive practice, Mr. Bell removed to that town, where he soon acquired an extensive and lucrative practice, which continued for the long period of forty-three years, when he was incapacitated from practice by an attack of paralysis about two years before his death, which happened on 22nd of March last, in the 76th year of his age. In society, the frank and manly bearing of Mr. Bell made him a general favourite. His numerous apprentices and pupils regarded him with the warmest affection, for the deep interest he took in their professional education and future prospects in life, and for the excellent example he set before them of what a professional man should be. As a surgeon and general practitioner, he was characterized for sagacity, decision, and a thorough knowledge of his profession, which he kept up by careful study and extensive reading to the very last; and while he had neither time nor temper for imaginary ailments, in cases of real danger and difficulty his attention was unwearied, and bestowed, not only with the zeal of an enthusiast in his profession, but with the kindness of an attached friend. In the course of his long practice, Mr. Bell had performed most of the principal operations in surgery—lithotomy often and with very uniform success. As a general practitioner, he was held in the very highest respect by the public; and such was the confidence placed in him by his medical brethren, to whom he was at all times frank and courteous, that not in Dundee only, but in the towns and country for many miles round, he for a number of years enjoyed a very extensive consulting practice. The Dundee Royal Infirmary enjoyed the benefit of Mr. Bell's high talents and acquirements as one of its surgeons for upwards of thirty years, and by the governors and supporters of this institution his eminent services were gratefully received and acknowledged. The deceased was admitted a member of the London College of Surgeons on the 18th of April, 1806.

BENNETT, LUCAS, died July 26th, at Winterton, Lincolnshire. The deceased was admitted a member of the London College of Surgeons on the 7th of December, 1804, and soon after entered on the duties of house-surgeon to the Leeds Infirmary. He has left a widow and eight children.

BERRY, JOHN, of the Army Medical Staff, died lately at Bathurst, Gambia. The deceased, who was admitted a member of the Royal College of Surgeons on the 16th of May, 1845, had only just entered the service of his country, when he was cut off at the early age of 28.

BILLINGS, WILLIAM, died October 17th, at his residence in the Hampstead-road, aged 74. The deceased, who was a surgeon in the Royal Navy, was admitted a member of the Royal College of Surgeons on the 1st of July, 1803.

BISSETT, CHARLES ALEXANDER. This gentleman expired, September 27th, after a few days' illness, at the residence of Sir J. L. Goldsmid, Somer Hill, Tunbridge, at the early age of 26. The lamented deceased, who was admitted a member of the London College of Surgeons on the 29th of June, 1849, was the eldest son of C. E. Bissett, Esq., surgeon, of Peckham.

BOISRAGON, HENRY, M.D., died on the 2nd of June, at Bideford, Devon, aged 74. The deceased was one of the oldest members of the council of the Provincial Medical and Surgical Association, having joined it in 1832; he was elected president in 1837, and was subsequently one of the permanent vice-presidents, which office he held at the period of his decease.

BOOTH, FRANCIS, formerly of Preston, Lancashire, died on the 10th of May, at Ventnor, Isle of Wight, whither he had repaired, in hopes of experiencing some relief from severe disease of the heart. The deceased was admitted a member of the R.C.S. England, on the 12th of May, 1837, and a L.S.A. in the same year.

BROWN, THOMAS, M.D. of Edinburgh, 1799, died September 9th, at his country residence, Tostock, Suffolk, in the 76th year of his age. The deceased, who was also a M.R.C.S., having been admitted in 1810, was physician extraordinary to the Royal Sea-Bathing Infirmary, Margate, and the author of a work on Dropsy.

BRUCE, SAMUEL BARWICK. This distinguished Peninsular officer expired at his residence, in Victoria-square, Grosvenor-place, December 24th, aged 66. Dr. Bruce was the second son of Mr. Barwick Bruce, and grandson of the Hon. J. O. Bruce, of Gartlet, county of Clackmanan. Dr. Bruce served in the Peninsula in 1813, in America in 1814 and 1815; and was present at the severe actions before New Orleans in January, 1815, at the capture of Fort Boyer, &c. He joined the army in the Netherlands, under the Duke of Wellington, in May, 1813, was present at Waterloo, and at the subsequent capture of Paris. Dr. Bruce was for many years surgeon to the Ripon Dispensary, surgeon to the Forces, and Government Inspector of Mills and Prisons for the Ripon district. Mr. Cumming was admitted a member of the R.C.S. of England, Dec. 26th, 1828, and a L.S.A. at the same time, and was surgeon to the Brighton Bath Charity, and to the Union.

DALRYMPLE, JOHN, F.R.S. This eminent surgeon died at his residence in Grosvenor-street, on Sunday, May 2nd, in the 49th year of his age. Like his eminent predecessor, Frederick Tyrrell, he has been cut off in the flower of his age and the height of his usefulness, just when reaping the reward of his long and meritorious labours in the field of ophthalmic science. He has passed away from us at the very time that his ripe judgment and extensive experience rendered his opinion of the highest value. When a man reaches threescore and ten, or fourscore years, his faculties decay and his work is done; but far different is it when, as in the present instance, a professional man is struck down in the very prime and vigour of his days. That is indeed a heavy loss; and what Mr. Dalrymple had done proves what might have been expected from him, had his life been spared to the full age of mankind. He was the eldest son of the late William Dalrymple, Esq., a highly distinguished surgeon at Norwich. After studying for some time under his father, and at the University of Edinburgh, Mr. Dalrymple passed his examination at the R.C.S. England, on the 23rd of February, 1827, and commenced the practice of his profession in the City; he removed in 1839 to Holles-street, and subsequently to Grosvenor-street. In 1832, he was elected one of the assistant-surgeons to the Royal London Ophthalmic Hospital; and by his great skill and assiduity in that department of surgery, well sustained the high character of the institution. In 1843, he was appointed full surgeon to that charity; and although, from the state of his health, he was under the necessity of resigning that situation, the governors evinced their high sense of his valuable services by requesting him to give his occasional assistance as consulting-surgeon. In 1847, he was elected consulting-surgeon to the North London Infirmary; in 1850, a fellow of the Royal Society; and in 1851, a member of the council of the Royal College of Surgeons. He was one of the founders of the Royal College of Chemistry, and zealously promoted its interests to the best of his ability. In 1834, Mr. Dalrymple published his essay on the "Anatomy of the Human Eye;" and he had just completed his truly valuable work on the pathology of that organ, when his career was closed. His style was clear and concise, and the soundness and precision of his views, and the accuracy of his descriptions of disease, were universally acknowledged by the profession. His writings will be a lasting monument of his fame. In addition to his own peculiar department of surgery, in which he had attained the highest eminence, and the full confidence of the profession and the public, he successfully prosecuted the delicate and interesting study of microscopical anatomy, human and comparative. In this pursuit his acuteness and rigid powers of inquiry were only equalled by his dexterity in manipulation. As a practitioner, he was endeared to his brethren, not more by the lucid views which he entertained and the extensive knowledge he possessed, than by his earnest and devoted application, his high sense of honour, and the graceful gentleness of his disposition and manners. In private life, Mr. Dalrymple was a gentleman of the most affectionate disposition, generous sympathies, and agreeable manners. His mind was stored with varied and general information, which he communicated in very pure and pleasing language, and with a calmness and modesty peculiarly fascinating. His career, which promised to become still more brilliant, has, like that of his lamented and illustrious friend, Mr. Liston (who justly estimated his great attainments), been comparatively brief. But while the public and the profession will deplore his loss as one of the most talented surgeons in his own nice and difficult sphere, all who knew him will cherish the memory of a man whose intrepid resolve, combated with constantly recurring sickness and a feeble constitution, and whose cheerfulness and amiable deportment shed around him a light, the remembrance of which can only be extinguished when his last surviving friend shall, like himself, sink into the grave.

DEHANE, JOHN. This gentleman expired September 20th, at Woolwich. The deceased was admitted a member of the London College of Surgeons on the 1st of November, 1816. A. d'Annay, who retired to Scotland after the revocation of the Edict of Nantes; and of Flora Macdonald, whose heroic attachment to Prince Charles Edward is so well known. Dr. Downie received the honour of knighthood from her Majesty for his attention as physician to her late Royal Highness the Princess Elizabeth, Landgravine of Hesse Homberg; and in the same year, 1848, was appointed physician in ordinary to his late Royal Highness the Duke of Cambridge; and in 1846, physician extraordinary in the household of her Royal Highness the Duchess of Kent. Dr. English, who was admitted a member of the London College on the 21st of August, 1846, had just returned from Australia as surgeon, on board the Wellington; on his arrival he took lodgings at the above hotel, where he exhibited signs of insanity, which were apparently unheeded, and which resulted in his death by his own hands.

The deceased commenced the study of the profession at St. Bartholomew's Hospital, and after the prescribed course of studies, was admitted a member of the Royal College of Surgeons of England, on the 16th of May, 1834, and an L.S.A. the same year, after which he proceeded to Berlin, where he resided for twelve months in the active pursuit of knowledge, and where he also graduated. On returning to England he at once became a general practitioner; but the ardour with which he had pursued knowledge had so shattered a naturally weak constitution that he was ill able to undergo the harassing fatigues of a general practice, and after a few days' illness he fell a victim to phthisical pneumonia at the above early age.

HAMILTON, HENRY, M.D. This gentleman expired at his residence at Carrick-on-Shannon, June 4th, aged 66. The deceased, who was formerly a surgeon of Her Majesty's 13th Light Infantry, was much esteemed by his brother officers. Dr. Hamilton had served throughout the Burmese War.

Mr. Hewett was admitted a member of the Royal College of Surgeons on the 19th of April, 1850, and a licentiate of the Hall about the same time; soon after which he became resident physician's assistant at the Hospital for Consumption at Brompton, and afterwards repaired to Paris, for the purpose of studying there for a short time. During his sojourn at Paris he was honoured with the membership of the Parisian Medical Society, in consideration of a cleverly written essay on Phthisis, which was read before that body. Upon his return to England, he was selected to be house-surgeon to King's College Hospital, where he remained a few months. From thence he removed to the Bradford Infirmary, Yorkshire, having obtained the house-surgeoncy to that hospital. He had scarcely been half a year at this Institution, when he was attacked with erysipelas, contracted from a patient, and which terminated fatally on the 4th of December, 1851, after a few days' illness, at the early age of 28. His premature death caused extreme regret to all those who had the pleasure of his acquaintance and who enjoyed his friendship; and they were not few in number, for by his genius and varied endowments, he had endeared to himself an extensive circle of friends, all of whom highly appreciated his inestimable worth, and sincerely mourned his loss. His demise could not have caused more pain than to those friends connected with the Bradford Infirmary, where a resolution, expressive of the regret of all parties connected with the institution, was unanimously passed, and was ordered to be entered in the minutes. Mr. Hewett was author of some interesting works on Antiquarian Research, viz., "The History of the Hundred of Compton," a book which gave great promise of success in that department of science, and will be read by many with considerable interest: likewise "The Memoirs of Tobias Rustat," an entertaining and highly amusing work, published in the year 1850. He was soon promoted to the rank of surgeon, and had the honour of serving his country above twenty years. He was distinguished as a cool and steady operator, prompt in his treatment of disease, and skilful in his diagnosis. He saw much service, and his name is honourably mentioned by Colonel H. Despard, to his Excellency Governor Grey. He was then surgeon on board H.M.S. Castor. Mr. Lawrence received his professional education at St. Bartholomew's Hospital, and was admitted a member of the Royal College of Surgeons on the 4th of December, 1835, and a licentiate of the Society of Apothecaries about the same time. After undergoing these examinations, he was elected house-surgeon to the hospital, the duties of which were performed to the entire satisfaction of the surgical staff; after which he repaired to Brighton, and, in partnership with his father, soon obtained the confidence of his patients, and becoming distinguished for his ability as an operator, was elected surgeon to the Sussex County Hospital, and there had numerous opportunities of showing his skill. His illness was somewhat remarkable and interesting. About fifteen years ago he suffered from a severe attack of constipation, and since that period had experienced more or less pain in the region of the cæcum. About fourteen days prior to his death he was seized with violent pain in the same part, accompanied with obstinate constipation of the bowels. The symptoms increased, and it was thought that there might be some mechanical obstruction. Messrs. Stanley and Fergusson were accordingly sent for, but too late to be of any service. On a post-mortem examination it was found that ulceration of the intestine had taken place.

LEE, JAMES, died November 1st, aged 38. The deceased, who was surgeon to the Dunse Prison, obtained his M.D. degree of Edinburgh in 1840.

The deceased was a fellow of the Royal College of Physicians, and for many years physician to St. George's Hospital. Dr. Macleod was more particularly known as the editor of the London Medical Gazette, and as the author of a treatise on Rheumatism. His hospital and other duties had of late years been frequently interrupted by attacks of an epileptic character, which, increasing in frequency and severity, led to his retirement from the profession, to Old Aberdeen, where he died at an advanced age.

MANBY, EDWARD, formerly of East Rudham, Rougham, Norfolk, died May 8th at King Staith-square, Lynn, in the same county, aged 69. The deceased, who was in practice prior to 1815, was the author of "A Dissertation on Cholera, as analogous to the Asiatic form of the Disease," published in 1831.

MANTELL, GIDEON ALGERNON. This distinguished palæontologist expired November 10th, at the age of 63. Dr. Mantell had been a severe sufferer for some time past, but his energy and spirits were such that it was impossible not to forget this after being a few minutes in his company. The deceased imbibed at an early period of his life a taste for natural history pursuits, and having fixed his residence as a medical practitioner at Lewes, was led to devote himself, with great natural enthusiasm, to the investigation of the fossils of the Chalk and of the Wealden of Sussex. Little attention had been excited among geologists to the wonderful organic remains of this district, and to a mind of his penetration and sagacity a rich field presented itself for observation. In 1812-15, Dr. Mantell commenced forming, at Lewes, the magnificent collection of 1300 specimens of fossil bones, which is now in the British Museum; and in 1822 appeared his "Fossils of the South Downs," a large quarto work, with forty plates, engraved by Mrs. Mantell, from drawings by the author. Another work was published by him about the same time, entitled, "The Fossils of Tilgate Forest," and, compared with geological literature of the period in which they were written, they are meritorious productions. In 1825, Dr. Mantell was elected a fellow of the Royal Society, and he has contributed some important papers to its "Philosophical Transactions." For his memoir "On the Iguanodon," he had the honour, in 1849, to receive the royal medal. He was also an active member of the Geological Society, and in 1835 was presented with the Wollaston medal and fund, in consideration of his discoveries in fossil comparative anatomy generally. From Lewes Dr. Mantell removed about this period to Brighton, and his collection being materially added to, was purchased by the trustees of the British Museum for 5000*l.* Upon this, he removed to the neighbourhood of London. Dr. Mantell took great delight in imparting to others a knowledge of his favourite science; he was fluent and eloquent in speech, full of poetry, and extremely agreeable in manners to all who manifested an admiration of his genius. He now turned his attention to the more popular and attractive works, for which his name will be chiefly remembered,—as the "Wonders of Geology," "Medals of Creation," "Geological Excursions round the Isle of Wight," and an enlarged edition of "Thoughts on a Pebble," all of which are profusely illustrated, and have passed through several editions. His latest work was a handsome contribution to the organic remains in the British Museum, entitled, "Petrefactions, and their Teachings." To these may be added, "Thoughts on Animalcules," and a "Pictorial Atlas of Fossil Remains," selected from Parkinson and Arli's palæontological illustrations; and among his early productions, a handsome quarto narrative, with portraits of the "Visit of William IV. and Queen Adelaide to the ancient borough of Lewes," which contained some original poetry. The deceased was admitted a member of the Royal College of Surgeons on the 19th of April, 1811, and was elected a fellow, December 11th, 1843. He was also a LL.D., a fellow and member of the council of the Royal and Geological Societies, a F.L.S., and corresponding member of several learned and scientific societies abroad.

He began his medical studies under the able tuition of his father, Samuel, the first Dr. Merriman. He received the degree of M.D. in 1808, and in the same year was appointed physician-accoucheur, consulting physician-accoucheur, and subsequently became vice-president, of the Westminster General Dispensary. For nearly 15 years he delivered his lectures on Midwifery at the Middlesex Hospital; and in 1831, Dr. Merriman was appointed examiner to the Apothecaries' Society, to which office he was annually elected for six years, and then became one of the Court of Assistants. He was for many years a fellow of the Medical Society of London, of the Linnæan Society, and of the Royal Medical and Chirurgical Society, to which he was elected treasurer in 1837. Dr. Merriman was also a member of the Society for the Relief of Widows and Orphans of Medical Men, and was for many years one of its treasurers. MOORE, MATTHEW SCOTT, M.D., died April 26th, at his residence, Maddox-street. The deceased was formerly superintending-surgeon of the Madras establishment.

MORGAN, J., died September 23rd, at Burmah, of cholera. The deceased was assistant-surgeon of H.M.S. Fox, of the India squadron. He was a most valuable officer, and his loss will be much felt. It is a subject of just complaint that such old cramped vessels as the Fox should be sent out to such a climate as the East Indies, when there are so many others of better construction, capacity, and fitness, for such a station. The master, chaplain, and assistant-surgeon of this vessel have now died in her, and her first and second lieutenant and purser have been compelled to invalid from her to avoid a similar fate.

MORLEY, WILLIAM, died June 24th, at Basford, Nottinghamshire, aged 46. The deceased was admitted a member of the Royal College of Surgeons, January 16th, 1829.

MURRAY, THOMAS, died at Calcutta, January 11th, aged 35. The deceased was a surgeon in the Hon. East India Company's Service, Bengal.

MUSGRAVE, ANTHONY, M.D., died February 24th, suddenly, at Antigua, (of disease of the heart, under which he had suffered for many years,) where he practised in partnership with Dr. M. H. Daniell, and having acquired a large fortune, and identified his own interests with the welfare and prosperity of the colony, he was elected a member of the House of Assembly in 1817, and discharged his legislative duties with diligence and ability. The deceased was a M.D. of the University of Edinburgh, and had not contributed much to the advancement of medical and chirurgical science. The "Medico-Chirurgical Transactions" contains a very good history, by the deceased, of the fearful epidemic of yellow fever which broke out at Antigua in June, 1816, and from which his partner, Dr. M. H. Daniell, narrowly escaped, attributing the preservation of his life to the untiring personal watchfulness and attention of his young professional associate. Dr. Musgrave was formerly one of the annual presidents of the Medical Society of Edinburgh, his colleagues in that office being Drs. John Davy, Richard Bright, and T. H. Burder, all subsequently brilliant ornaments of the profession. The disease which proved fatal, there is reason to believe, was of long duration, dating at least from the time he was a student.

NELSON, ROBERT, died January 16th, in the 62nd year of his age, at his residence, Monteith-row, Glasgow. The deceased went to Glasgow originally as a working man, and possessing great industry and perseverance, continued, during the intervals of his more laborious occupation, to prosecute his studies in the University of that city, and in 1815 he became a licentiate of the Faculty of Physicians and Surgeons, and having taken a druggist's shop, practised laboriously and successfully for many years. About five years since the deceased retired from the active duties of his profession, and soon after became affected with scirrhus, which, after thoroughly undermining his constitution, finally proved fatal.

NEWBIGGING, SIR WILLIAM. This distinguished physician expired at his residence in Heriot's-row, Edinburgh, on the 30th of October. Sir William was elected a fellow of the Royal College of Surgeons of Edinburgh, in 1799; he was also for twenty years surgeon to the Royal Infirmary, and a member of several learned and scientific societies. He contributed to the Edinburgh Medical and Surgical Journal, a case of ligature of the external iliac artery with success, being the first case of the kind in Scotland.

NIELL, ALEXANDER, died after a few hours' illness, at Calcutta, aged 34.

OSBORNE, FREDERICK W., M.D., died at Sheffield, January 7th, aged 37.

PACKER, CHARLES, of Pitfield-street, Hoxton, after a few days' illness, in his 45th year. The deceased was a licentiate of the Hall, having passed his examination in 1830, and at the time of his decease held the appointment of registrar of births and deaths for the Hoxton Old Town District.

PAINTER, CHARLES BENJAMIN, of Churton-street, Belgrave-road, died February 16th, in his 32nd year. The deceased passed his examination at the London College, on the 28th of May, 1841, having previously been admitted a licentiate of the Hall.

PARKIN, HENRY, died May 4th, at Cary House, Torquay, Devon, aged 59. The deceased was admitted a member of the London College of Surgeons, on the 6th of January, 1815.

PAYNE, THOMAS HENRY, of Frome, Somersetshire, where he commenced the practice of his profession, after passing the London College of Surgeons, on the 6th of June, 1836. His health breaking down, he had taken several voyages in hopes of re-establishing it, but only lived three weeks after landing in England from Madras, having died on the 30th of March, in the 38th year of his age.

PERFECT, GEORGE, died December 2nd, at West Malling, Kent, aged 61.

PORTER, JOHN GEORGE, formerly of Peterborough, died April 26th, in Maddox-street, Bond-street. The deceased was admitted a member of the Royal College of Surgeons, England, on the 17th of January 1851, and a L.S.A. in 1839.

POTTER, SAMUEL, died December 1st, at Ulverstone, Lancashire. The deceased was admitted a L.S.A. in 1836, and in the following year a M.R.C.S.

PUDDICOMBE, ELIAS DUNSTERVILLE, died January 10th, at Silverton, Devon, aged 53. The deceased was formerly an assistant-surgeon in the Hon. East India Company's Service, and at the time of his death held the appointment of medical officer of the St. Thomas and Tiverton Unions.

REARDON, WILLIAM, expired suddenly at his residence, Henry-street, Tipperary, March 11th, in his 48th year. The deceased was a M.B. of Trinity College, Dublin and a member of the London College of Surgeons.

RECKITT, WILLIAM, died suddenly of an attack of apoplexy, August 6th, at Boston, Lincolnshire. The deceased was admitted a member of the London College January 13th, 1837.

RHODES, JAMES, died March 3rd, at the early age of 29. The deceased was a licentiate of midwifery, Dublin, in 1847; M.R.C.S. of England, July 7th, 1848; and L.S.A. 1849; and though so young, was one of the surgeons of the Manchester and Salford Lying-in Hospital, Dale-street, Manchester.

ROBINSON, WILLIAM. This gentleman expired at his residence in Spencer-street, Carlisle, August 28th, aged 24. The deceased was educated at the Grammar School, Carlisle, and afterwards at University College, London; and on the 7th of November, 1851, was admitted a member of the Royal College of Surgeons. To a kind and amiable disposition were united talents of a high order, and he was much esteemed by a large circle of friends.

ROWE, WILLIAM HENRY, of Brighton, died suddenly on the 14th of February, at Berwick-upon-Tweed, of disease of the heart. The deceased became a member of the London College of Surgeons, and a licentiate of the Hall, in 1829.

RUSSELL, JAMES. Though the career of a medical practitioner rarely affords many biographical incidents sufficiently striking to arrest general attention, the lives of such men not unfrequently present examples of active benevolence, and untiring energy in the discharge of self-imposed duties, which furnish profitable matter of contemplation. This is especially true of the subject of this notice, the whole tenour of whose life and character evinced his possession of these high qualities in an especial degree. Mr. Russell was the son of an eminent merchant in Birmingham, whose family, being members of the Unitarian body of dissenters, were greatly attached to, and connected with, Dr. Priestly. Upon the conclusion of his preparatory scholastic course, Mr. James Russell became the pupil of the late Mr. Blount, of Birmingham, from whom he imbibed a decided taste for general scientific pursuits, in addition to the groundwork of a sound medical education. About the year 1806 he proceeded to London, to pursue his professional education at Guy's Hospital, under the late Sir Astley Cooper and other distinguished professors. Soon after his return from the metropolis, he became connected with the Birmingham Dispensary, first as resident surgeon, and afterwards as one of the surgeons, of that institution, the duties of which office he discharged with great ability and humanity. He succeeded to the practice of the late Mr. Lardner, and subsequently became the partner of his esteemed friend, the late Mr. Viekers. For many years he held the office of surgeon to the Town Infirmary. After the lapse of a number of years, the increase of his private professional engagements obliged him to relinquish this office, in which he had been led to take a cordial interest in the condition of the poorer inhabitants of the town. In this subject, indeed, he ever afterwards manifested a lively solicitude; and when sanitary inspectors were appointed for the borough, he was selected, along with his friend Mr. Hodgson, to discharge the duties of this important office, which he continued to hold to the period of his decease, and effected important improvements in the sanitary condition of Birmingham. Though he cultivated with unswerving industry every department of medical science, there was one branch to which he devoted special attention,—namely, that of the accoucheur; and few men possessed a larger amount of experience, or displayed more talent in the discharge of the duties connected with it. We are informed that he accumulated many valuable and interesting observations, chiefly of a statistical character, in connexion with this important department of medical science; and it is to be regretted that the pressure of his other avocations, and his desire to render them as perfect as possible, should have prevented their publication. He has left notes, written by his own hand, of upwards of 2700 cases of midwifery, which he had personally attended. To complete the catalogue of his public services, it is necessary to add, that he was surgeon to the Protestant Dissenters' Charity School, and to the Asylum for the Deaf and Dumb, having maintained an uninterrupted connexion with the last-mentioned institution from its foundation by his esteemed friend, Dr. De Lys, to the day of his death. He also took an active part in the establishment of the Medical Benevolent Society in Birmingham. The literary and scientific bodies of Birmingham, moreover, derived from Mr. Russell much assistance. He was warmly interested in the prosperity of the Old Library, and of the Medical Library; to the Philosophical Institution, of which he was for many years the treasurer, his services during the greater part of his life were constant and of great value. He was mainly instrumental in establishing the beautiful

Geological Museum, and was one of the trustees of the Lecture Endowment Fund of that institution. On the occasion of both the visits to Birmingham of the British Association for the Advancement of Science, he devoted all his energies to promote the success of those meetings. If there was one feature in the character of Mr. Russell more remarkable than another, it was his uniform consistency of conduct; for, notwithstanding his undeviating attachment to the faith in which he was brought up, he cherished so unfeigned a regard for the liberty of opinion in others, that he established his warmest and most lasting friendships with gentlemen of widely differing religious persuasions. Indeed, toleration of opinion was one of the leading characteristics of his mind. Mr. Russell was a member of the Royal Medical and Chirurgical Society of London, as well as of the Royal College of Surgeons of England, of which institution he was admitted a member May 6th, 1808; and on the institution of the fellowship of the latter body, he was selected in 1843, with other leading practitioners in Birmingham, for that distinction. The death of Mr. Russell was the consequence of angina pectoris. For more than six years he suffered from the symptoms of that fatal malady. Any unusual exertion, particularly in walking, produced dyspnoea, with feelings of constriction and the peculiar anguish and pain in the region of the heart which are characteristic of that disease. But his general health in other respects was good, and he was able, with care, to the very night of his dissolution, to discharge the duties of his extensive practice. He was found dead in his bed on the morning of the 24th of December, 1851. On the following day the body was examined. The heart was a little larger than natural: it was very extensively covered with fat, which was half an inch thick over the anterior part of the right ventricle, and at the left edge of the left ventricle. The muscular structure of the heart was fatty and soft. Two coronary arteries arose from the aorta; both were contracted at their origins, and thickened in their structure. The internal coats of these vessels were throughout atheromatous, having a few calcareous deposits scattered about it. It was rough generally, and sacculated in places. In parts the calibre of these vessels was very much obstructed by fibrinous deposits adhering to the coats. The aorta was healthy, excepting at the mouths of the coronary arteries. No change was found in the valves or other parts of the heart which could have interfered with its functions. The spleen was of twice the natural size. There was much fat about the abdominal viscera, but all the other organs, thoracic and abdominal, were healthy.

The lamented deceased, who was an apprentice of the late Mr. Liston, commenced the practice of his profession in 1832, and rapidly rose in public estimation, he held various important professional appointments, including that of physician extraordinary to the Queen in Scotland, physician to the Royal Infirmary, which he resigned, from the rules of the establishment preventing him from deriving adequate professional advantages from the toils and dangers of his office. Dr. Spittal was liberal in his politics; and in thinking and acting he was always independent, honest, and bold; he was a great abhorrer of quacks and quackery, and notwithstanding his occasional difference of opinion in the College of Physicians and elsewhere, from his professional brethren, he had so much gentleness of manner, so much gentlemanly feeling, and such obvious sincerity, that he never made enemies by his opposition. The deceased has left a widow and a large circle of friends to mourn his premature loss.

STALEY, JAMES, died January 30th, at Wantage, Berkshire, aged 49. Mr. Staley was admitted a member of the R.C.S.E., April 1st, 1825, and a licentiate of the Hall the preceding year.

The lamented deceased, at the time of his death, was physician to the Huddersfield Infirmary, formerly physician to the North-London Hospital, Professor of Clinical Medicine, University College, London, and Fellow of the Royal College of Physicians, London. He was an eminent and inestimable man. Huddersfield and the West Riding of Yorkshire will deeply feel and regret his loss. On Tuesday, the 29th of June, a post-mortem examination of the body took place, in the presence of T. P. Teale, of Leeds, Samuel Booth, William J. Clarke, and Thomas A. Bottomley:—Liver enlarged, and studded throughout its whole extent with masses of encephaloid matter, varying in size from that of a pea to a pullet's egg. Left kidney about the size of two fists, extremely hard, and infiltrated throughout with encephaloid (?) matter (opaque white solid matter). Right kidney healthy. Dr. Thomson graduated at Edinburgh in 1824, and in 1825 was admitted a Fellow of the College of Surgeons, and in 1833, of the College of Physicians. In 1841, he was appointed professor of the practice of physic in the University of Glasgow, in the vacancy occasioned by the decease of Dr. Badham. In 1848, he laboured under an affection of the heart, and latterly had suffered from severe attacks of bronchitis and enlargement of the liver. Dr. Thomson had been a valuable contributor to the advancement of science, and the Library of Medicine is enriched with several articles from his pen. He was the author of a work on Diseases of the Liver, and of a notice of the death of his distinguished parent in the Edinburgh Med. and Surg. Journal.

The deceased was admitted a member of the London College of Surgeons on the 6th of June, 1806, and an M.D. of Edinburgh in 1811. Mr. Tweedale was formerly surgeon of the Royal Naval Hospital, Madras, and late physician of the West Norfolk and Lynn Hospital.

VINCENT, JOHN PAINTER. The medical profession, and the public generally, experienced a great loss by the decease of this eminent and amiable member of our profession, who expired on the 17th of July, at his country residence, Woodland's Manor, near Sevenoaks. Though belonging to a most respectable and ancient family, Mr. Vincent was compelled, at a very early age, to make choice of a profession, and, therefore, when very young, commenced the study of surgery, under the auspices of Mr. Long, who ever regarded him as his favourite and most promising pupil. He was admitted a member of the College of Surgeons, March 20th, 1800. He immediately entered upon the active practice of his profession, and soon became a great favourite with the public, not only from his skill, but also on account of his kind and unremitting attention to his patients—particularly to the young, whose confidence he at once gained. Leigh Hunt, in his Autobiography, speaks with much feeling of the effect produced by Mr. Vincent's kind, quiet, and mild manners upon the boys in Christ's Hospital. Mr. Vincent succeeded his master, Mr. Long, in practice, having taken that gentleman's house in Lincoln's-inn Fields; where he shortly formed a very large connexion, and continued to practise till 1850. In the year 1807 the subject of this notice was appointed assistant-surgeon to St. Bartholomew's Hospital; and in 1816 he succeeded to the office of senior surgeon. He soon became an especial favourite with the large class of students engaged in that institution: and there are not a few, who, reading this short notice, of their worthy master, will call to mind many pleasing traits in the character of "poor old Vinco," as he was familiarly called by them. On the 12th of July, 1832, Mr. Vincent was elected a member of the council of the College of Surgeons, and in the beginning of 1828 he was appointed an examiner. In the following year he delivered the Hunterian Oration; and on the 15th of July, 1832, his colleagues elected him to be their president. To this honourable office he was again elected in 1840. On quitting the president's chair in 1841, Mr. Vincent delivered to the council an address, which was afterwards published, and which, we well remember, drew forth the high encomiums not only of those who heard it, but also of the profession at large. It is very characteristic of its esteemed author, being honest yet courteous, simple and yet the evident result of deep thought and extensive reading. Though the occasion which drew forth this small pamphlet has passed away for more than eleven years, yet its value and interest still continue. In 1847 Mr. Vincent resigned his office of chief surgeon to St. Bartholomew's. On his retirement, his colleagues, pupils, and medical friends, united for the purpose of presenting to him some testimonial of their esteem for his character and admiration of his talents. At the close of 1847, Mr. Vincent completed and published his "Observations on some parts of Surgical Practice," to which is prefixed "An Inquiry into the Claims which Surgery may be supposed to have for being classed as a Science." In this work are stated the results of an experience of nearly fifty years; it is worthy of one whose talents and virtues adorned his profession; and it will, we doubt not, long continue to be regarded as high authority in those subjects of which it treats. In making public these "observations," at the close of a long and honourable life, Mr. Vincent was actuated by no motives of ambition—no desire of extended practice or wider fame, but by the pure and simple wish to lend a helping hand to his younger professional brethren. Many readers of this biographical sketch will call to mind the following most just tribute paid to him by Mr. Luke, in his Hunterian Oration. . . . "It is beyond the limits of my mission to particularize, while these leading members of the profession are still with us in person. Yet I cannot let pass the opportunity which the occasion affords, of paying a passing tribute of respect to an amiable man, who has left our councils during the last year. That tribute is due most appropriately to him when speaking of those works of merit which emanate from their authors with no vainglorious pretensions, or seeking after ephemeral popularity; for these motives to action our late respected colleague repudiated as repugnant to his own sense of right. Those who knew Mr. Vincent's high qualifications as a practical surgeon, knew also with what reluctance he presented himself before the public as an author. Under whatever influence that reluctance arose, the effect was to defer the publication of the results of his observations until a matured experience through a long and useful career enabled him to speak with that authority and weight which both became his position and commanded the respectful attention of his contemporaries." Soon after the publication of his work, Mr. Vincent resigned entirely his public appointments and private practice, and with his mental faculties still as vigorous as ever, though with a weakened bodily frame, retired to his country residence, where he spent the remaining days of his long life, in that state of cheerful happiness which belongs only to the sincere Christian. Mr. Vincent's life was not a very eventful one. The stream was smooth, clear, and deep. His humility ever kept him from assuming a prominent position before the public; and the uprightness and kindness of his disposition ever made him shrink from even the thought of being a party man. He had "a mind which revolted from an act of meanness and dishonour, and he never sullied his integrity by a single ungenerous or sordid act, during an unusually long life of professional activity."—Hunterian Oration, by Mr. Skey. If there were any quality that distinguished the kind heart of Mr. Vincent more than another, it was his great consideration for, and deference to, the feelings of every one—friends, pupils, and patients became alike attached to him. The same care and attention were bestowed upon the humblest and poorest persons submitted to his skilful treatment as upon the most affluent. The hospital patients were accustomed to say that, as he approached their bedside, his benevolent look alone sufficed to alleviate their sufferings. Several instances might be mentioned, in which large bodies of the poor testified their respect and gratitude towards him. In his operations, Mr. Vincent never aimed at parade or display—but he was skilful, cautious, and safe, and was as judicious in his application of the remedy as he was reluctant to inflict pain. No one more readily detected the nature of a complicated injury or obscure disease, although ever most cautious lest he should pass a premature judgment on the case. That which conferred an extraordinary facility in diagnosis was the extreme delicacy of touch which he possessed: and it was a common saying of the students—"We cannot make up our minds as to the exact nature of the case, we will consult Mr. Vincent, who has eyes at the extremities of his fingers." The members of the profession generally had great confidence in his experience, and attached much value to his opinion and advice. And the remark made of him shortly before his death, was most just. "The character of no London surgeon was so highly esteemed as that of Mr. Vincent." Belonging to the true Abernethian school, he attended much to the constitutional treatment of local disease; and this added much to his reputation as a practitioner of surgery—the scientific character of which he was ever anxious to maintain. It cannot be expected that full justice has been done in so brief a sketch of his life, to the character of this good and able man—we hope we may yet see it done by other hands. Still, a long period shall have elapsed before the name of John Painter Vincent will cease to be remembered as that of one of the kindest and most upright of men—and one of the most skilful, discerning, and conscientious, of English surgeons, in this or any other age.

LIFE DEPARTMENT.

Persons assured for the whole term of Life, for £100 and upwards, will have an addition made to their Policies every fifth year (instead of every seventh, as heretofore) or an equivalent reduction will be made in the future payments of Premium, at the option of the Assured.

Policies may also be effected for the whole term of Life by payments yearly or half-yearly, also by a limited number of yearly payments, a mode of assurance which originated with this Company in 1816.

Assurances for Short-periods may now be effected in this Office at considerably reduced rates of Premium.

The next valuation will be made at Christmas 1854, and Policies effected before that date, will participate in proportion to the time they may then have been in force.

The following statement of Sums paid on various Policies (printed with the consent of the representatives of the Claimants) will, it is submitted, confirm the very satisfactory result of the principles on which the Company's business is conducted, and exhibits the Bonus or Additions which attached thereto respectively, viz.—

No. of Policy.	Name of Life Assured.	Term of Years during which Bonus accrued.	Sum Assured.	Bonus.	Total amount paid.	Bonus per Cent. on the Sum Assured.	Bonus equal to the undereffected per Cent. per Annum on the Sum Assured.

(A List of the Proprietors Enrolled in the High Court of Chancery.)

LIFE.

This Institution adopts both the Proprietary and MUTUAL systems of Life Assurance, and the Policy Holders under both systems are fully protected by the large Subscribed Capital of the Company.

In the Proprietary Branch, Assurances are granted at the Lowest possible Rates of Premium consistent with the security of the Establishment. Such Assurances may be effected in a great variety of ways, to suit the circumstances and convenience of the Assured. Among others, the annexed specimens of the rates required for £100, "payable on the assured attaining SIXTY years of age, or at Death if that event should happen previously," and of the "Terminating Rates of Premium," are particularly deserving of attention. The latter Table will be found to be peculiarly advantageous to professional men, merchants, traders, and others, who may be enabled, during the period of health and activity, to lay by a portion of their earnings for the benefit of their surviving families, but who may object to be burthened, in the decline of life, with the payment of Life Assurance Premiums.

In the Mutual Branch of this Institution, complete security is combined with the highest attainable economy. The holders of Policies are fully protected from all LOSS and LIABILITY by the Subscribed Capital of One Million Sterling, in addition to the large fund accumulated from the Premiums on upwards of 3000 Policies. The decided success of this Branch of the Establishment is evidenced by the result of the Septennial Division of Profits in the year 1848, when a Bonus of 56 per cent. upon the Premiums paid was allotted to the Policy holders; the Bonus being appropriated, at the option of the Assured, either by an addition to the Sum Assured, or an equivalent Reduction in the Future Annual Payments.

The Constitution and Regulations of the New Equitable Life Assurance Company.

MUTUAL ASSURANCE.—The "New Equitable" embraces all the advantages of a strictly Mutual Office, with the addition of an ample subscribed paid up capital, forming a bonâ fidé security for its Policy holders.

POLICIES INDISPUTABLE.—The Policies of this Company being Indisputable, they become as readily negotiable, in monetary transactions, as any other description of personal property.

THE ELECTION OF DIRECTORS AND AUDITORS.—Persons assured for Life, with profits, are entitled to vote at the annual elections of Directors and Auditors.

POLICIES PAYABLE TO THE ASSURED THEMSELVES.—Assurances for fixed sums may be effected, payable to the Assured parties themselves at any specified ages, or, in case of death before the time named has expired to their executors or assigns.

INVALID LIVES.—Are assured at rates adapted to the particulars of each case, every circumstance affecting the health being impartially considered.

RESIDENCE ABROAD.—Persons assured in this Office may reside in the British Colonies and in foreign countries (with few exceptions), without the payment of extra Premiums.

RATES OF PREMIUM.—The tables containing the Rates of Premium have been framed with reference to the "experience" of the most successful Life-offices in London, and with a due regard to complete security and strict economy.

HALF-CREDIT PREMIUMS.—Policies for Life are granted on the payment of only one half the Premiums, annually, during the first five years, the remaining half being charged to the Assured at five per cent. interest, and the total amount so left on credit to be deducted from the Policy, should the death of the Assured person happen before the expiration of the five years.

PURCHASE OF POLICIES—LOANS.—The Policies issued by this Company are purchased by the Directors at the full value. After Policies have been in force five years, advances are made upon them by way of Loan.

DIVISION AND APPROPRIATION OF PROFITS.—After the Thirty-first of December, 1855, EIGHTY PER CENT. of the Profits will be Equitably divided, ANNUALLY, amongst the holders of Policies issued on the participating scale. The sums apportioned as profits may be received in Cash, or they may be applied to the reduction of Premiums, or to the ultimate extinction of Premiums, or they may be added to the Policies, at the option of the holders.

LADIES.—In all cases seen at their own residence, by a Medical officer of the Company.

CANDIDATES FOR ASSURANCE.—The appearance before the Board of Directors of candidates for Assurance will not necessarily be enforced.

POLICIES SUDDENLY REQUIRED.—In urgent cases proposals may be made and Policies completed and issued in a single day.

To provide for self in old age—to provide for a wife and family in case of death—is the duty of every one dependent upon his own means and exertion. Accident or illness may deprive the strongest and the most healthy in a single moment of every resource. Who can count on the morrow? It comes—the strong man is powerless. His widow is deprived of every support—his children are destitute. The man who has not prepared for these calamities has neglected his duty to himself, his family, and his country.

One shilling per week, commencing at the age of twenty-six, will secure 90*l.* 3*s.* 6*d.*, payable at the age of sixty.

Less than one shilling per week, commencing at the same age, will secure 100*l.* upon death.

One shilling per year, which includes the Government duty, will assure furniture, clothes, and tools against loss by fire to the amount of 10*l.*

These sums are spent by most men in luxuries, which they do not require—will they not be spared for the day of sickness, or the hour of misfortune?

The leading objects of this Society are—Indisputable Policies—Credit given for payment of Premiums—Small Policies issued—Policy Stamps and Medical Fees paid by the Company—Unhealthy lives accepted—Substitution of one life for another—Deposits received—5*l.* per cent. interest allowed—Ordinary fire insurances taken at 1*s.* 6*d.* per cent.

Applications for Agencies, where none are appointed, may be addressed to Mr. J. W. HOWELL, at the Chief Office, 484, Oxford-street.

POLICIES NEVER DISPUTED in the absence of wilful fraud. They are a safe provision for settlements, renewal of leases, security of debts, &c.

This Office was for a considerable period the only Society in connexion with either the Medical or Legal Professions founded on the principle of MUTUAL ASSURANCE.

The principle is the most beneficial to the Assured, amongst whom THE WHOLE NET PROFITS ARE DIVISIBLE annually, commencing in 1851.

The Society has a Subscription Capital to guarantee the prompt settlement of claims; but it will be paid off as soon as replaced by a reserved Profit Fund.

The business of the Society includes—

ASSURANCES, on a Single Life, with or without profits; also on Joint Lives, and on Survivorships.

ANNUITIES, for Lives and Limited Terms, Immediate, and on Survivorship.

DEFERRED ANNUITIES, with the privilege to the Grantees of receiving, in lieu thereof, either their present value in money, or a policy for the equivalent sum at death.

ENDOWMENTS for Children born or to be born.

The Society also offers new and distinctive forms of Assurance; as—

ANNUITIES TO CHILDREN, payable from the death of a parent or other person, or for a stated number of years, commencing at a given age.

ENDOWMENTS AT ALL AGES.—And all other sound and practicable PROVISIONS contingent on human life, or for terms certain.

INVALID LIVES ASSURED at equitable Rates.

THE MEDICAL BENEVOLENT COLLEGE is intended to provide—

1st. AN ASYLUM, in which 100 pensioners, who must be duly qualified Medical Men, or their Widows (possessing incomes of at least 15*l.* a year), shall be provided with three furnished rooms each, and with such additional assistance and accommodation as the funds may permit. The Council, however, confidently hope, that the Society will be enabled wholly to support some few deserving persons not possessed of the required income.

2ndly. A SCHOOL, in which a liberal education will be given to 100 boys, the sons of duly qualified Medical Men; the majority of whom will pay 25*l.* a year each for education, board, lodging, and washing; while the rest will be orphans educated and maintained entirely at the expense of the Society.

The Council also confidently hope ultimately to establish an ANNUITY FUND, for granting small annuities, in cases where such assistance may be accorded with advantage; and for relieving temporary embarrassment among deserving members in actual practice or otherwise.

There will be a CHAPEL for Divine Worship.

The outlay for a site and buildings, including fittings and furniture, is estimated at 20,000*l.* The whole yearly expenditure in providing suitable allowances to the pensioners, in the remuneration of officers, and in other establishment charges, is calculated at 2000*l.*

All Donors of Ten Guineas and upwards will be Life Governors. Annual Subscribers of One Guinea are Governors during the continuance of their subscriptions.

Further information may be obtained by addressing the Honorary Secretary, HENRY TUDOR DAVIES, Esq., 4, Hanover-square, where Subscriptions will be received, as well as by the TREASURER and the following Bankers:—GOSLING and SHARPE, 19, Fleet-street; COUTTS and Co., 59, Strand; DRUMMONDS, Charing Cross; GLYN and Co., 67, Lombard-street; SCOTT and Co., 1, Cavendish-square; HOARE and Co., Fleet-street; THE UNION BANK OF LONDON, Regent-street Branch; WILLIAMS, DEACON, LABOUCHERE and Co., Birchin-lane; and by CUNLIFFE and Co., Manchester.

The objects of the Society are—

1st. To provide a safe and efficient medium by which the Medical Profession may secure more certain and regular payment for their services; with every consideration for the convenience of those who are willing, but unable directly to discharge their liabilities; with rigour from those who are able, but have not the disposition, to remunerate medical men.

These ends to be accomplished without interfering with the valuable time of the Members of the Profession, or exposing them to the unpleasantness which necessarily attends applications for money, or the uncertain results of employing private collectors.

2nd. With the machinery necessary for carrying out the foregoing purposes, to establish a means of privately negotiating the transfer of practices and partnerships, and the providing of assistants and pupils.

3rd. To raise a Benevolent Fund by devoting to that object the profits arising from the general operations of the Society.

The Society consists of qualified Medical Practitioners only. Annual Subscription, One Guinea; a firm, consisting of two partners, a Guinea and a half; a firm of three partners, Two Guineas.

The general business is carried on by a staff of officers at the Central Office, 43, Lincoln's-inn Fields, together with trustworthy agents appointed in town and country, the whole of whom are under the direction and superintendence of the Committee.

The Metropolitan Members of the Committee, with the Trustees, are responsible for all moneys received by the Society.

ACOMB HOUSE, NEAR YORK.

A PRIVATE RESIDENCE FOR A LIMITED NUMBER OF LADIES AND GENTLEMEN SUFFERING FROM MENTAL AFFECTIONS.

RESIDENT MEDICAL ATTENDANT AND PROPRIETOR,

MR. J. W. METCALFE, M.R.C.S., & L.A.C.

For many years Medical Superintendent of the York Asylum (an Institution receiving 160 private patients), and formerly Senior House Surgeon of the Southern, or Jenny Lind's Hospital, Liverpool.

Acomb House is handsomely furnished and provided with every modern appliance for the recovery, care, and comfort of the inmates, who associate with the family, and are waited on by kind and experienced attendants.

A Library and Reading-room, with Newspapers, &c., Music, a good Billiard-table, and various amusements are amongst the means used for recovery, which, with the daily walk, ride, or drive, aid the medical, moral, and general treatment.

Acomb House presents many advantages; conducted as a private residence, it shows nothing, either within or without, to indicate its object; whilst the number of patients is such as to avoid any semblance of "an asylum," giving that only of a private family.

Acomb House, at the same time that it is in the country, has all the advantages of the town, from its proximity to York, where many medical men reside, eminent in the treatment of mental disease, whose additional opinion could readily be had when advantageous to a case.

The terms vary according to the case and accommodation required.

Address

MR. J. W. METCALFE,

ACOMB HOUSE, YORK.

EFFRA HALL, NEAR THE CHURCH, BRIXTON.

THREE MILES FROM THREE BRIDGES,

For the Care and Recovery of Nervous, Epileptic, and Insane Ladies.

ESTABLISHED AT COWPER HOUSE, OLD BROMPTON, 1825,

BY MESSRS. ELLIOTT &amp; CO.

Proprietor, Mr. Cyrus Alexander Elliott, and Conducted by Mrs. Symmons.*The House, surrounded by its Lawn,

Walled-in Gardens, Meadow, and Orchard of five acres, has long been admitted to be one of the most beautiful and secluded residences in this well-known healthy locality, proverbial for its pleasant walks and varied scenery. The greatest care has been taken to render this Establishment a Domestic home, rather than an Asylum in the general acceptance of the term; and being exclusively for the reception of Females, a greater extent of liberty and recreation is available, than can possibly be obtained in houses where both sexes are admitted. The additions and detached buildings have been erected at considerable expense, on the most approved plans.

The faculty are invited to view, in Effra Hall and Munster House, the arrangements expressly made for the various forms of Mental Disease, which have by experience been found to assist so materially the Medical and Moral treatment, by affording Classification to the Insane, Quietude to the Nervous, and to the Epileptic those accommodations which are so particularly required.

Those Patients whose cases permit, are allowed (accompanied) to walk and ride into the country, and attend Divine Worship; and if change of air is considered requisite, will, by the request of their friends, be sent to the Sea Coast, where the Proprietor has a Cottage always in readiness.

Omnibuses pass Effra Hall every Five Minutes, from the City and Oxford-street.

For the Terms, which are strictly moderate, and Attendants, apply as above, or to Munster House; and to W. V. PETTIGREW, M.D., F.R.C.S. of England, 7, Chester-street, Grosvenor-place.

MUNSTER HOUSE, NEAR FULHAM.

THREE MILES FROM HYDE-PARK CORNER,

For the Care & Recovery of Nervous, Epileptic, & Insane Gentlemen.

Proprietor, Mr. Cyrus Alexander Elliott, Surgeon, late of Cowper House, Old Brompton.

(ESTABLISHED 1825, BY MESSRS. ELLIOTT AND CO.)

Munster House, once the Hunting Seat of his Majesty King Charles II., contains twenty-nine rooms, and is situated on the road from London to Fulham, in the highest and healthiest part of the parish, and upon a gravelly soil. The pleasure grounds are eight acres, entirely walled in, ornamented with fountains and gold fish, statuary and rockwork, terraces and parterres, conservatories and summer houses, and studded with noble trees and flowering shrubs: the whole offering most cheerful inducements for recreation, exercise, and amusement, which consist of a Bowling-green and Bowling-alley, Swings and Rocking-horses, Billiard and Reading-rooms, with newspapers, periodicals, and musical instruments, and a Library well stored with books.

An additional House (not seen in the view) has been built, containing a Hall, large and lofty Dining, Sitting, and Bed-rooms, seventeen separate Rooms, Washing and Bath Rooms; the whole erected, arranged, heated, ventilated, and lighted with gas, under the sanction and advice of the Commissioners in Lunacy.

This Establishment has the advantage of being near to London, and yet as rural as any of our country villages. It is easy of access for Professional and other visits, by the Putney omnibuses, every ten minutes from the Bank and London Bridge Railway Station, and it is also within three-quarters of a mile of the Putney Station upon the Windsor Railway.

INSANITY.

The Brook Villa, Green Lane, West

Derby, situated about Three Miles from Liverpool. Erected expressly for the care and cure of those Invalids, of both sexes, whose mental afflictions render absence from home desirable and necessary.

This House is in the Italian Style of Architecture, light and airy throughout; its various Corridors, Sitting, and Bedrooms, commanding extensive views from all the windows, and from the Garden and Pleasure Grounds.

The internal arrangements are complete, where everything is combined with the kindest care and attention for the restoration of the unhappy Invalids.

Mr. and Mrs. OWEN have had nearly Thirty Years' experience in the care and treatment of the Nervous and those mentally afflicted.

The Terms vary according to the circumstances and accommodation required. Experienced Attendants sent, if required, to remove Invalids.

Grove Hall Lunatic Asylum, Bow, London.

Arrangements have recently been made in this Asylum for the reception of a larger number of Private Patients of either sex, from the Middle Classes of society.

Terms—15s., 21s., and 30s. per Week.

The Asylum is within three minutes' walk of the Bow Station of the Camden Town Railway; and is also easily reached, either by Omnibus, or by the Stratford Station of the Eastern Counties Railway.

Further particulars may be obtained on application to the Proprietor or Resident Medical Superintendent.

INSANITY.

West Malling Place, near Maidstone, Kent.

This Establishment has been conducted for upwards of a Century with considerable success. The Mansion is situate in a picturesque and healthy locality, combining cheerfulness with retirement. The Pleasure Grounds are extensive, and a variety of amusements adapted to the taste and condition of the Patients. Proprietress and Resident Superintendent, Mrs. FARRER.—The House is delightfully situated in the picturesque village of Catton, which is acknowledged to be one of the most healthy parts of Norfolk. The terms are moderate, and vary according to the amount of attendance and accommodation required. Every information may be obtained of the Physician, the Proprietress, or Messrs. Lane and Lara, 14, John-street, Adelphi.—The Grove is distant from Norwich one mile, and two miles from the Eastern Counties Railway. Carriages for the Patients are provided.

Miss ELLIOTT continues to receive a limited number of Ladies mentally afflicted, and conducts the arrangements upon the plan of a private family, combining medical and moral treatment with the comforts of home and every kind of beneficial recreation and amusement. The house and grounds are pleasantly situated.— Experienced Nurses sent to any part of the country.

Halliford House, Sunbury, Middlesex.—

This beautiful Residence, standing in a small Park of eighteen acres, is appropriated to the reception of a limited number of Patients suffering under the milder forms of Mental Disorder. They have the advantage of the constant care and companionship of the Resident Physician and his family. The general arrangements are, as nearly as possible, those of a private family, and great care is taken to avoid everything calculated to remind Patients of the circumstances necessitating their temporary separation from family and friends. They have also the advantage of frequent Carriage Exercise, and a variety of amusements—Chess, Archery, Billiards, &c.; and in any case where it is desirable, a separate Suite of Apartments is available. Terms and other particulars may be learned upon application to Dr. SEATON, the Resident Proprietor. Schweppe's Soda, Potass, and Magnesia WATERS and AERATED LEMONADE continue to be manufactured upon the largest scale at their several Establishments in London, Liverpool, Bristol, and Derby. F. and Co. take this opportunity of thanking the medical profession at large for the decided preference they have evinced for their oil, and beg to assure them that no expense shall be spared in rendering it worthy of their future patronage. The arrangements at their manufactories, St. John's, Newfoundland, and at Scarborough, are such as to enable them to produce the very finest oil.

They have the honour to supply nearly every respectable wholesale house in the Kingdom.

TO PHYSICIANS, SURGEONS, AND DRUGGISTS.

Brown's Cantharidine Blistering Tissue,

Prepared from Pure Cantharidine. An elegant preparation, vesicating in much less time than the Emp. Lyttæ. P.L., easily applied and removed, and will not produce strangury or troublesome after-sores. It has received the sanction and commendation of many of the most eminent Practitioners in the kingdom.—In Tin Cases, containing twelve feet, 6s. 6d.; and small Cases of six square feet, 3s. 6d. each.

BROWN'S TISSUE DRESSING,

An elegant, economical, and cleanly substitute for all ointments as a dressing for Blisters, and may be called a companion to the above.—In Tin Cases, containing twelve square feet, 1s. 6d. each.

Extracts and Editorial Note from the New York Journal of Medicine.

March 1st, 1850.

"BROWN'S CANTHARIDINE TISSUE.—It presents peculiar claims to our notice in the inflammatory diseases of females and children, in whom the unpleasant consequences which so often follow the application of the Emp. Cantharides are most apt to occur. We have found it a reliable and peculiarly safe vesicant; and, from the many trials we have given it, we are satisfied that it deserves the attention of the Medical Profession.

"Accompanying this article is a very simple and neat dressing."

From the Medical Examiner and Record of Medical Science for May, 1850, Published in Philadelphia.

"We have received from Mr. Geo. D. Phelps, of New York, specimens of BROWN'S CANTHARIDINE BLISTERING PLASTER and DRESSING, with which our readers are doubtless familiar as a new and exceedingly neat preparation, easy of application and certain in their effects. We have given them a fair trial, and find they fully answer our expectations."

Army Medical Department, Jan. 16, 1847.

"The Principal Medical Officer of the General Hospital, Fort Pitt, Chatham, reports that Mr. BROWN'S BLISTERING TISSUE has been used extensively in the Military Hospital, has been found effective as a vesicatory, when carefully applied, and has not been productive of any degree of strangury.

ANDREW SMITH, M.D.,

Deputy Inspector-General of Hospitals.

"Mr. T. B. BROWN, Druggist, 42, Admiral-terrace, Vauxhall-bridge-road, London, late Handsworth, Birmingham."

Sold by the Sole Consignee, Mr. WILLIAM BAILEY, Horseley Fields Chemical Works, Wolverhampton; and all wholesale and retail Druggists and Medicine Agents throughout the British Empire.

BOURJEAURD'S ELASTIC APPLIANCES, ACTING SPIRALLY.

The very flattering approval which M. BOURJEAURD'S APPARATUSSES daily obtain from the most distinguished physicians and surgeons of the metropolis, is a convincing proof that he has succeeded in gaining the confidence of the profession; it will, therefore, be sufficient for him to state, that his unrivalled appliances, which act in a spiral direction, and are worn with the greatest comfort and benefit, will, as heretofore, be found to give the greatest satisfaction both to surgeons and patients.

Among the many ingenious contrivances, he would mention his Elastic Stockings, (see Lancet, 20th Nov. 1852, p. 478,) the Improved Ankle, Calf, and Knee Pieces, the nicely-graduated and gently-compressible Suspensory Bandages for Orchitis, Hydrocele, and Varicocele; and the newly-invented Elastic Belt and Air Pad for Hernia (see Lancet, 10th Jan. 1852, p. 43); his Abdominal Belts for Obesity and Gestation; his Elastic Air-filled Pessaries, &c. &c. The advantages of all these appliances are, that they effect a steady and gentle pressure in a circular direction, that the material is of the most yielding and desirable description, that the compression is in all cases carefully regulated, varied, and graduated, so as to meet the surgeon's views, and give the pressure wherever it may be required, that the textures will wash like any other material, and that they are not open to the numerous objections which can be brought against the knitted and laced apparatuses put forth as safe and effectual.

M. BOURJEAURD also has had much success with very many difficult cases, in as to supply contrivances which were highly approved of by the medical attendants.

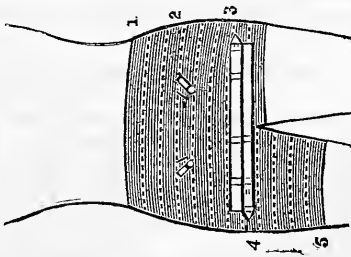

Barefaced imitations of M. BOURJEAURD'S appliances are constantly attempted, but they are so clumsy, that the profession will have no trouble or difficulty in distinguishing between the genuine and spurious articles.

11, Davies Street, Berkeley Square, opposite Mivart's Hotel.

Knee Piece and Ankle Piece.

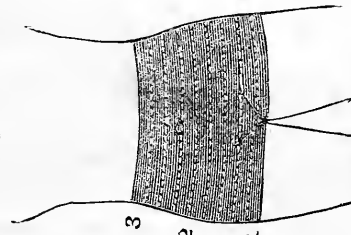

Abdominal Supporter.

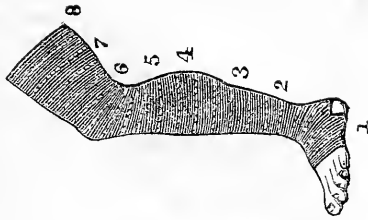

Inguinal or Crural Hernia Apparatus.

Umbilical Hernia Apparatus.

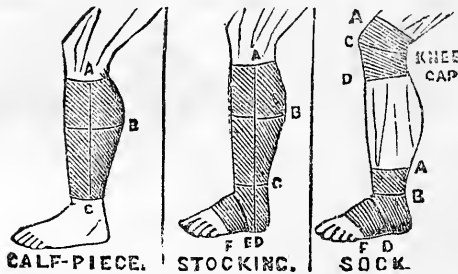

Elastic Stocking, acting spirally, from the toes to above the knee.

N.B.—The Figures 1, 2, 3, &c., show the points at which the measure should be circularly taken.

BAILEY'S INSTRUCTIONS FOR MEASURING.

Circumference of the part for which the Bandage is required.

WEAK LEGS, VARICOSE VEINS, &c.

Surgeons continue to recommend Bailey's Elastic Stockings, Knee Caps, Ankle Socks, and Wristbands to DRAW ON; they are exceedingly light, and may be forwarded per post. Persons must be guided by their medical man as to what kind of Bandage they shall have, as in cases of Fractures or Sprains, those to Lace will be found to give more support than those to draw on.

Knee Cap, 7s. 6d. to 12s. 6d.; Stocking, 14s. to 21s.; Calf-Piece, 10s. to 17s.; Sock, 7s. to 12s. 6d.; Wristband, 2s. 6d. to 7s. 6d. The highest charges are for Silk Articles.

A Female in attendance, and persons sent into the Country to take Measure.

Post Office Orders to be addressed to HUNTLEY BAILEY, 418, OXFORD-ST., LONDON, opposite Hanway-street.

Tarratt's Bandage and Strengthening

PLASTER.—This Plaster, from the nature of the composition and the material on which it is spread, is adapted for a permanent bandage, as it neither produces irritation of the skin, nor, when applied, does heat cause it to lose its adaptation to the part. Having these qualities, it is peculiarly valuable in the treatment of ulcerated legs, varicose veins, &c., where equal and constant support is required. Several of the most eminent surgeons continue to use this Plaster in their practice, preferring it in certain cases to any other. It is well suited for exportation, and use in warm climates, the high temperature having less effect on it than on any other plaster.

The profession are referred to Messrs. Westwood and Hopkins, Wholesale Druggists, Newgate-street, where the plaster may be had in packets containing three yards, for 2s. 6d., or spread upon skins of chamois leather, at 3s. 6d.

Westwood and Hopkins also call attention to their Compound Adhesive Plaster for fractures and wounds, as likewise to their concentrated preparations, essences, &c.

Rimmel's Toilet Vinegar (certi- fied by the celebrated Dr. Ure to consist of the purest and most salubrious substance) is far superior to any Eau de Cologne as a tonic and refreshing lotion for the Toilet or Bath, a reviving scent, a pleasant dentrifice, and a powerful disinfectant for apartments or sick rooms. Its useful and sanitary properties render it an indispensable requisite in all families. Price 2s. 6d. and 5s. May be had in bond for shipping at a great reduction in price.

Sold by EUGENE RIMMEL, Perfumer, 39, Gerrard-street, Soho; and by all Chemists, Perfumers, &c.

BUTLER'S TASTELESS SEIDLITZ POWDERS,
IN ONE BOTTLE.

THIS USEFUL APERIENT PREPARATION, besides forming an equally efficient and far more agreeable draught than that produced with the common Seidlitz Powders, is made in much less time, and with infinitely less trouble. To allay Fever or Thirst, a teaspoonful in water forms a most refreshing saline draught. Being inclosed in a bottle, it will remain uninjured by humidity during the longest sea voyage or land journey.

Sold at 2s. 6d. the bottle (which is inclosed in a case, and accompanied by a measure and spoon) by the preparers, BUTLER & HARDING, Chemists, 4, Cheapside, corner of St. Paul's, London.

* * Be careful to ask for "BUTLER'S Tasteless Seidlitz Powder," and to observe the address.

SARSAPARILLA.

It is asserted by many eminent Medical Men, that there is no Medicine in the Materia Medica comparable to Sarsaparilla for recruiting the debilitated constitution, restoring the tone of the stomach, improving the general state of the system, and by its continued use removing various morbid symptoms ascribed to a deranged condition of the fluids; such as Eruptions on the Skin, Ulcerations, Scorbutic and Cutaneous Diseases, and Rheumatic Pains, operating as a general and complete purifier of the blood. BUTLER'S "COMPOUND CONCENTRATED DECOCTION OR FLUID EXTRACT OF SARSAPARILLA" is the original of the now numerous preparations of the kind, and extensively prescribed by Medical Practitioners; it is most carefully prepared (from the finest Jamaica Sarsaparilla imported) at a low temperature, so as to preserve entirely the virtues of the root in their most efficient and concentrated form. A pint bottle is equal to four quarts of the ordinary preparation.

Prepared and sold in pint bottles, 20s.; half pints, 10s.; and quarter pints, 6s. 6d., by BUTLER & HARDING, Chemists, 4, Cheapside, corner of St. Paul's, London.

greatest luxury and comfort ever introduced for invalids, being fitted up with the PATENT NOISELESS WHEELS and other improvements. By means of this invention, invalids, whose removal was considered impossible by their medical attendants, have been conveyed from Italy, France, and other parts of the Continent, with the greatest ease and perfect security. These carriages may be engaged on moderate terms for any journey, upon application to HENRY READING, successor to E. I. Fuller, Coachbuilder, 77 and 78, Margaret-street, Cavendish-square.

Francis L. Puckeridge, Sole Inventor and

Manufacturer of the late Mr. R. LISTON'S WATERPROOF TRANS-PARENT ISINGLASS MEMBRANE PLASTERS, now patronized by Mr. Liston's successor, Mr. Quain, in his hospital and private practice; patronized likewise by Mr. W. Fergusson, Surgeon, of King's College Hospital; Mr. J. M. Arnott and Mr. Wormald, of Bartholomew's Hospital. Used for amputations and other serious wounds requiring observation, without exposure to the air.

F. L. P. begs to state there are two qualities, and it is particularly beneficial for Spinal Complaints, Ruptures, Sprains, or any weakened part; also, a Defensive Skin, to apply between the wound and the lint, and causes less pain in dressing. Likewise, a superior Gauze Lisse, waterproof, and not waterproof, of the same adhesive properties as the Membrane; also, superior Tinted Court Plasters and Tinted Goldbeaters' Skin, by the yard and in cases.

F. L. P. offers his most grateful thanks for the encouragement and kind patronage he has received from the Medical Gentlemen of England and foreign parts, and hopes to merit a continuance of their favours, by manufacturing his Plasters with the same unremitting care as heretofore.

May be had of the Proprietor, 4, York-place, Walworth, Surgical Instrument Makers, Chemists, &c., with improved directions how to apply.

Mr. Puckeridge received an Exhibition Medal.

Ritchie and M'Call's Medical Comforts.

PRIZE MEDAL, GREAT EXHIBITION, 1851.

Chicken Broth, 1s. 9d. per pint, 1s. per half-pint; Beef-Tea, 1s. 9d. per pint, 1s. per half-pint; Mutton Broth, 1s. 3d. per pint, 9d. per half-pint; Invalid Turtle, 5s. per case; Tendons of Veal, 3s. per pound.

These delicacies contain the greatest amount of nutriment in the smallest possible space, and being in canisters hermetically sealed, they will remain fresh for an unlimited period. They are prepared with the express view of supplying the Invalid with agreeable, nutritious, and easily-digested food, at a few minutes' notice, and of preventing the tedious delays which occur in procuring and preparing ordinary articles of food, during which the appetite of the Invalid frequently becomes so palled as to reject it altogether. It is merely necessary to open the canister and warm the contents, when they are ready for immediate use. They form a useful and excellent diet for young children.

Examination of a Sample of Chicken Broth purchased of RITCHIE and M'CALL.—“The contents of this canister were perfectly unchanged, and in as fresh a state as though the Broth had been recently prepared.”—The Lancet, March 27, 1852.

Sold by all respectable Druggists and Italian Warehousemen in Town and Country, and Wholesale by RITCHIE and M'CALL, 137, Houndsditch, London.

Sulphate of Quinine, pure Crystallized, prepared by EDWARD HERRING, for the Use of Hospitals, Dispensaries, Surgeons, Dispensing Chemists, &c.

This Sulphate of Quinine is chemically pure; its form of Crystal is the same, and in every respect identical with the Sulphate of Quinine of commerce, the only difference being that the one is bleached, the other unbleached.

It has been successfully introduced for the use of Hospitals, Dispensaries, and Public Charities; but its purity and great reduction in price are now attracting the attention of Medical Men and Dispensing Chemists.

The peculiar mode of preparing the Hospital or unbleached Sulphate, and also the usual white Sulphate, is being made the subject of a Patent; the processes of manufacture will therefore be made public.

It is put up in bottles (free) of 3-oz. and 6-oz. each, capsuled with the name of the Proprietor, and labelled with the name of the Inventor.

Both these Sulphates to be had of the leading Druggists in London and the United Kingdom; and in quantities of not less than 100 ounces, of JACOB HULLÉ, Jun., Proprietor, Chemical Works, Trinity-street, Southwark, London.

A NEW ERA IN MEDICAL ELECTRICITY IS OPENED BY
PULVERMACHER'S PATENT PORTABLE
HYDRO-ELECTRIC CHAIN BATTERIES.

One Hundred and Twenty Plates permanently connected and arranged so as to be at all moments ready for instantaneous use, communicating shocks through eight to ten persons—always in the same direction, and primary Voltaism, not secondary currents, as in the old Coil Machines—producing powerful contractions, decomposing distilled water, &c. &c. Weight about Eight Ounces, and CAN BE CARRIED IN A POCKET BOOK.

At present a medical man may, at a reasonable expense, carry with him in his daily practice, an inexhaustible source of primary galvanism, always ready for instantaneous use wherever a cup of vinegar can be procured, and producing all the effects that he can desire—a circumstance, the importance of which can scarcely be overrated, whether we look to cases of sudden emergency (swoons, fits, catalepsy, asphyxia, uterine hæmorrhage, &c.), or to the frequent opportunities and the facility thereby afforded of applying ONE OF THE MOST POWERFUL AND UNIVERSAL THERAPEUTIC AGENTS, which has hitherto been kept back only through the difficulties attendant upon its use.

WEAKER CHAINS are constructed on the same principle, to be worn on the body under the garments, communicating a MILD but CONTINUOUS current to the system, which has been found of the most eminent benefit in many various forms of CHRONIC diseases, where a mild but lasting stimulus of the functions of the nerves is indicated, and to assist the effect of specific remedies, the action of the Chains being made local, or general, at will.

The Invention has been demonstrated with great success before

- THE ROYAL COLLEGE OF PHYSICIANS,
- THE ROYAL COLLEGE OF SURGEONS,
- THE ROYAL PHARMACEUTICAL SOCIETY,
- THE ROYAL BRITISH ASSOCIATION,
- THE ACADEMIE DE MEDECINE (voted thanks to the Inventor),
- THE ACADEMIE DES SCIENCES, AT PARIS,

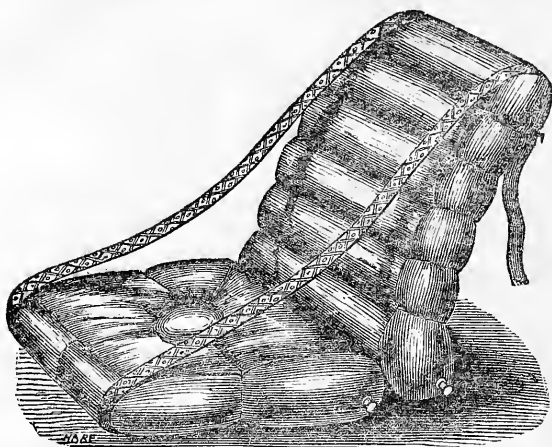

And is already in extensive use in nearly all the Hospitals in London, Edinburgh, Paris, and Vienna.

Extract of a Letter from the distinguished Physician of Guy's Hospital, Dr. GOLDING BIRD, M.D., F.R.S., F.R.C.P., &c. &c (published with his kind permission.)

“We have in this ingenious Invention, that which has long been a desideratum—viz., an Apparatus of the smallest possible bulk, capable of evolving a continuous uninterrupted current of Electricity of moderate tension, and always in one direction. . . . I can scarcely recommend Dr. Pulvermacher's Invention too strongly to the notice of my Medical Brethren.”

A FULL DESCRIPTION OF THIS IMPORTANT DISCOVERY, WITH SPECIFIED DIRECTIONS FOR THE USE, Testimonials from high Scientific Authorities, &c., may be had (by post for two stamps), AND THE CHAINS MAY BE FREELY TESTED AT Mr. CH. MEINIG'S Head Depôts, 103, LEADENHALL STREET, and 71, REGENT STREET, LONDON—(at Paris: 45, Rue Richer, and 12, Boulevard des Italiens), and from all C. MEINIG'S Agents, in Town, Country, and the Colonies.

MOC-MAIN PATENT LEVER TRUSS,

MANUFACTURED BY MR. WHITE, 228, PICCADILLY.

It consists of a small, light, and elastic pad, to which is attached a lever and a soft bandage to circumscribe the body, in lieu of the usual steel spring, the whole fitting so closely as to escape detection, while the resisting power is stronger than in the ordinary steel-spring Truss. It is easily adjusted, and may be worn during sleep. Upwards of 200 gentlemen of the Faculty in London have testified to its excellence. By sending the circumference of the body two inches below the hips, the Truss can be transmitted by post.

Mrs. Schuter, No. 63, Great Marylebone Street, Harley Street, Cavendish Square, London, NEWLY-INVENTED ELASTIC SUPPORTING BELT and ELASTIC WAIST CORSET MAKER, Patronized by the most eminent Physicians.

MRS. SCHUTER begs to return her most grateful thanks for the kind patronage she has received from the Medical Profession, and trusts for a continuance of future favours.

Mrs. S. begs to recommend the Profession to inspect her NEWLY-INVENTED BELT for Ladies suffering from Internal Complaints, and in all cases where support is necessary for Ladies prior and subsequent to Accouchement, Corpulent Persons, &c.

Mrs. S. begs further to state, she offers the Prolapsus Belt with feelings of the greatest confidence, it being entirely her own invention during severe indisposition, and the application of other Belts proving ineffectual.

Mrs. S. also begs an inspection of her NEWLY-INVENTED ELASTIC WAIST CORSET. The elasticity of these Corsets, being self acting and supporting, enables the wearer to take any exercise, and to breathe as freely as if there were no Corset on, at the same time giving that easy, graceful appearance so desirable, yet unattainable, by any other Corset.

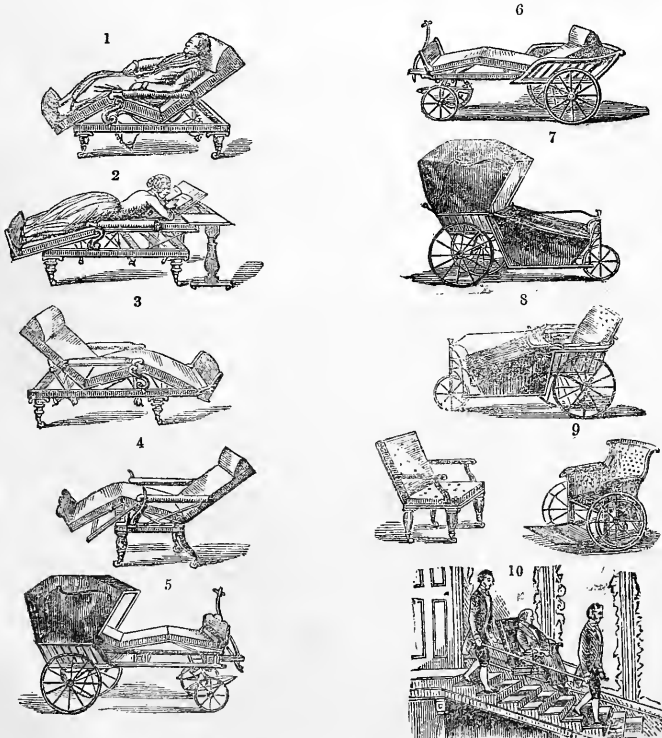

“The evils attendant upon the system of tight lacing have been over and over again pointed out in The Lancet. It is with peculiar approbation, therefore, that we recommend the Profession to inspect a new Elastic Corset, which will be found by its elasticity to obviate and supersede the close armour of the ordinary Stay, in which wearers, to their great injury, are accustomed to encase themselves. We entertain a high opinion of the invention.”—Lancet.

Bullock's Semola—Food for Infants and

Invalids.—This highly nutritious and very agreeable food is admirably adapted for invalids, infants, ladies nursing, and all persons of delicate constitutions, being a purely vegetable substance. Bullock's Semola contains far more nourishment than any kind of meat, at the same time it is peculiarly light and digestible, and hence is most excellent for luncheon or supper for persons in health. For invalids it is a most agreeable substitute for gruels, and an agreeable and pleasant food. Infants and weakly children are rapidly invigorated by its use. Ladies whilst nursing find it a source of comfort and support, as it increases the quantity and improves the quality of their milk. In all cases of debility or weakness after illness, in dyspepsia, weakness of the lungs, and in persons of a consumptive tendency, it is found highly strengthening, and easy of digestion. The peculiar properties and effects of Bullock's Semola are well understood by all Medical men who know its nature, and understand the true science of nutrition; hence it is generally recommended by all respectable practitioners throughout England, and other parts of Great Britain, India, and the Colonies. It must not be confounded with an article sold by grocers and others, under the same name, as a substitute, nor with Semolina, it being a totally different substance.—Bullock's Semola is sold only in packets, price 1s., 2s. 6d., and 7s. 6d. each; and can be obtained at 22, Conduit-street, Hanover-square, London, and of all chemists and druggists.

Thanks to Lord Derby, the prohibition by the Lords of the Treasury of the admixture of Chicory with Coffee came into operation on the 3rd of November last—a measure that has been long needed; for although many persons consider the addition of Chicory to improve or add a fulness to Coffee, there is no question but that great abuses have been perpetrated under the sanction of former Governments, and that the most abominable adulterations have been foisted on the public under the name of Coffee.

We have for many years acquired a wide celebrity for excellence in this article, and, at the present, are perhaps the largest holders of FINE COFFEES in the kingdom, comprising Choice Ripe Java, Rich Mountain Jamaica, Old Picked Mocha, and the finest growths from South America; to which we invite the attention of all connoisseurs of this delicious beverage.

The above, together with the fact that these were the only articles of the kind exhibited in the Crystal Palace during the Great Exhibition of 1851, furnish the best proof that need be adduced of their superior qualities. It is, however, needful to guard the public against base imitations, packed also in tinfoil, and having labels of the same colour.

Edwards' Patent Preserved Potato.—To KEEP IN ALL CLIMATES.

Naval, Military, and Medical Reports made to Her Majesty's Government from all parts of the world, in addition to the Professors' Certificates, testify that the PATENT PRESERVED POTATO contains all the virtue and anti-scorbutic properties of the fresh Potato.

EDWARDS' PRESERVED POTATO is adopted on the various Scales of Victualling by the Right Hon. the Lords of the Admiralty, Her Majesty's Commissioners for Emigration, the Hon. East India Company, Hudson's Bay Company, and for Shipping in general.

ARCTIC REGIONS.—Extracts of Reports from the Commanders and Medical Officers of the Arctic Expeditions, under Captain Sir James Ross, 1848 and 1849, and Captain Austin, 1850 and 1851:—

"Edwards' Preserved Potato is invaluable as a sea-store; sickness and scurvy having occurred, this prepared vegetable proved of the most essential benefit. . . . We are induced to entertain a high opinion of its anti-scorbutic properties. The whole of the people appeared to relish the preserved potato more with their salt meat than anything else, and infinitely to prefer it to rice."

Admiral Sir John Ross testifies as to its excellent anti-scorbutic properties, fully established in the different ships, and recommends that it should be liberally supplied to every ship.

CAPE OF GOOD HOPE.—Dr. Hall, Inspector General, King William's Town, writes:—"I am of opinion the virtues of the recent potato are well preserved in the patent preparation, and of the greatest importance as an article of diet both for sick and well." Orders have been given (1851 and 1852) by the Commissariat for large supplies, Army Service, of the Preserved Potato.

PREVENTION AND CURE OF SCURVY.—Sir William Burnett, Director General of the Medical Department of the Navy, recommends—"In addition to lemon-juice, the use of the preserved potato, at the rate of a quarter of a pound per man, twice a week, as a prophylactic."

THE LANCET: ANALYTICAL SANITARY COMMISSION.—Examination of Edwards' Patent Preserved Potato: "From this we obtain an excellent dish of mashed potatoes. . . . The potatoes prepared under the patent of Mr. Edwards were in a perfectly satisfactory state."

The evidence taken before the Select Committee of the House of Commons on Preserved Meats (Navy) testifies as to the keeping and vegetable properties of Edwards' Preserved Potatoes for all Climates, and being of great importance to the men when on salt provisions.

This Preserved Potato is cooked in a FEW MINUTES, and makes the vegetable as cheap as the common potato.

N.B.—Potatoes can only be EFFECTUALLY PRESERVED according to Edwards' Patent, as in any other state they do not stand the test of Time and Climate.

D. and H. EDWARDS and Co., Sole Patentees, BISHOPSGATE-STREET, and WAPPING WALL, LONDON.

Edwards' Patent Preserved Potato is considerably reduced in price, and supplied by all Provision Merchants and Store Dealers in London and the outports of the United Kingdom, Colonies, &c.

Vinaigre de Bordeaux.—The Readers of THE LANCET are requested to refer to the Report on Vinegar of the Analytical Commission, in the number for the 17th of January, 1852.

The WINE VINEGAR there spoken of so highly for its purity, strength, flavour, and aroma, is sold by retailers throughout the kingdom. Their names may be learnt by applying to the Importers, W. and S. KENT and SONS, Upton-on-Severn.

ALLSOPP'S PALE OR BITTER ALE.

The unanimous opinion of the most eminent scientific and medical men of the day, of BARON LIEBIG, MESSRS. GRAHAM, HOFFMANN, MUSPRATT, WATSON, BUDD, MARSHALL HALL, TRAVERS, FERGUSSON, ROWE, VIVIAN, HEYGATE, LEMAN, ARNOLD, EVANS, FORMBY, PETRIE, MACRODIE, VOSE, TUFNELL, HUNTER, DAVIES, JONES, SENIOR, MACLAREN, MACAULAY, GRAY, TEEVAN, HILL, HAYWARD, HARRISON, PEPPER, INMAN, Sir CHARLES CLARKE, the SANITARY COMMISSIONER of The Lancet, &c. &c. &c. (many of them after careful analyses, and all of them after long experience,) having been pronounced in favour of the healthful and invigorating qualities, as well as the highly dietetic properties of their Pale and Bitter Ales, MESSRS. ALLSOPP have little more to do than to place, once for all, before the public, in a brief form, the accredited results of the late investigations and recorded experience of those indisputable authorities.

Messrs. ALLSOPP & SON'S Pale or Bitter Ales have been thus unquestionably vouched to be "a very agreeable and efficient tonic, as a general beverage both for the invalid and the robust; and as tending, from the pure and wholesome nature of the ingredients employed, the moderate proportion of alcohol present, and the very considerable quantity of aromatic anodyne bitter derived from hops alone which they contain, to preserve the tone and vigour of the stomach, and to conduce to the restoration of that organ when in a state of weakness, debility, or irritability."

In all cases in which Malt Liquors are suitable, none meet the desired effect more certainly, none are prescribed with more confidence by the Faculty. "The careful manner in which the fermentation is conducted, causes them to assimilate to Foreign Wines more than the ordinary ales of this country; and on this account they do not occasion that acidity of stomach created by the less perfectly fermented ales." "These Bitter Beers differ from all other preparations of malt, in containing a smaller amount of extractive matter, thus being less viscid and saccharine, and consequently more easy of digestion. They resemble, indeed, from their lightness, a WINE OF MALT rather than an ordinary fermented infusion; and it is very satisfactory to find that a beverage of such general consumption is entirely free from every kind of impurity."

Fortified by such opinions, expressed in the above terms, verbatim, by the most eminent authorities, MESSRS. ALLSOPP & SONS do not feel themselves called upon to go into any further vindication of their justly popular beverage, from the aspersions of malicious and interested parties; but content themselves by announcing that they have commenced supplies from the Brewing of this Season.

ALLSOPP'S PALE OR BITTER ALE may be obtained in Casks of 18 Gallons and upwards, from the Brewery, Burton-on-Trent; and from the undermentioned Branch Establishments:—

LONDON, at 61, KING WILLIAM STREET, CITY.
LIVERPOOL, at COOK STREET.
MANCHESTER, at DUCIE PLACE.
DUDLEY, at BURNT TREE.

GLASGOW, at 115, ST. VINCENT
STREET.

DURABILITY OF GUTTA PERCHA TUBING.

---

MANY inquiries having been made as to the Durability of Gutta Percha Tubing, the Gutta Percha Company have pleasure in giving publicity to the following Letters from parties who have had it in use for a considerable length of time.

From SIR RAYMOND JARVIS, Bart., Ventnor, Isle of Wight.

SECOND TESTIMONIAL.

March 10th, 1852.

In reply to your letter, received this morning, respecting the Gutta Percha Tubing for Pump service, I can state, with much satisfaction, it answers perfectly. Many Builders, and other persons, have lately examined it, and there is not the least apparent difference since the first laying down, now several years; and I am informed that it is to be adopted generally in the houses that are being erected here.

From C. HACKER, Esq., Surveyor to His Grace the Duke of Bedford, Woburn Park.

SECOND TESTIMONIAL.

OFFICE OF WORKS, WOBURN PARK,

January 10th, 1852.

GENTLEMEN,—In answer to your inquiries respecting the Gutta Percha Tubing for Pump Suctions, I find that the water has not affected it in the least, although it will eat lead through in two years; we have adopted it largely, being cheaper than lead, much easier fixed, and a more perfect job.

N.B.—The Company's Illustrated Circulars, with Instructions for joining Tubes, &c., and for securely attaching Gutta Percha Soles, will be forwarded (post free) on the receipt of three postage stamps.

"We have never seen any product of the needle or the loom to be compared with the Balbriggan Stockings. To compare them with silk would be to grossly wrong them; for silk, though fine and glossy, always has an appearance of hardness. Again, ordinary cotton or wool seems always to have some appearance of coarseness; but the Balbriggan stockings, fine and glossy as silk, have a closeness of texture and a promise of warmth and softness wanting in their combination to all the hosiery of any other kind that we have ever seen."—The Standard, Aug. 7.
